School Board Passes $15,000 for Library, Budget Now $8,259,990

An appropriation of $15,000 for the Kingston Library, approved Wednesday night by a 5-3 vote at the June meeting of the Board of Education of the Kingston School District Consolidated, increased the 1965-66 budget to $8,259,990, an increase of $950,527 over last year's budget.

Voting against the library appropriation were Trustees Harold E. Keator Jr., Bernard Singer and Richard P. Boice. Trustees David Kline, outgoing board president; Arthur H. Withall, newly-elected president; Mrs. Edith Case Murphy, Hubert Hoderath and Sam S. Pepper voted in favor of the $15,000 appropriation.

First Appeal in Oct.
Last October the Library made a formal request for $15,000 in financial assistance annually and cited that there are 5,703 registered school student users of the library services. The request was turned down.

Since that time many organizations and individuals urged support of this plan to raise the library's budget from $33,000 to $48,000 with the addition of the request from the school.

Attorney Frederick H. Stang, a former mayor of Kingston and currently Library Board president, made a strong appeal for the $15,000 support of the school system.

The most vital information regarding the situation came in an enlightening survey conducted by Kingston League of Women Voters and released early in June. Other strong statements of support came from Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and Kingston Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Explains Stand
Explaining why he voted against the library appropriation, Trustee Singer said, "I think it is a worthwhile cause, but I don't think it's the function of the school board to contribute to a public library when we operate a school library. I think first consideration should be given to the library in Kingston High School."

"If we do contribute to Kingston Library we also should contribute to the libraries in Hurley and Port Jervis and the library starting in Town of Ulster. All these within Kingston Consolidated School District. I think our loyalty and consideration should be with the school library. If the library is closed in the high school then I would be completely in favor of contributing to the public library."

The total real property tax levy was fixed at $3,526,348, including the $15,000 for the library and $100,000 reserve for uncollected taxes.

Rate Not Definite Yet
School officials said the school tax rate in the consolidated school district areas, including the City of Kingston, have not been fixed, but Trustee Kline in a parting statement to board members noted that the rate should be close to the $40.209 for 1964-65. Some officials hinted the rate might show just a slight increase.

The summary of the budget for the current fiscal year shows the following items:

Board of Education $29,002; Central administration $144,716; Instruction—regular day schools—$4,760,278; Instruction—special schools—$167,722; transportation $385,120; Operation and maintenance of plant $707,892; Undistributed expense—Service units $9,130; Employee benefits $846,626; Insurance $60,518; Unclassified $59,500.

Debt service (principal) was listed at $637,000; debt service (interest) $237,466; inter-fund transfers (capital fund) $100,000 and a similar amount in reserve for uncollected taxes. The $15,000 library donation increased the total budget to $8,259,990.

Awaiting Assessments
Ira M. Shaw, business administrator for the school district, said the tax rates will not be determined definitely until the assessments are made.

The new law raises from $15,000 to $25,000 the limit on individual deposits in savings banks and also raises the amount of joint accounts from the previous $30,000 to a limit of $50,000.

assessment rolls are completed in the various areas of the district. Revenues from state sources total $4,175,913, including $4,161,913 in gross state aid and $14,000 state aid for experimental programs for culturally deprived groups. Total revenues other than real property taxes amount to $4,483,642.

The Board of Education has been desirous of extending the lease by and between D. & K. Realty Corp. and the City School District for the premises on the By-pass to be used as the auto repair shop for one year commencing today and ending June 30, 1966.

Will Have 250,000 Square Feet

Sears, Roebuck & Co. Signs Up With Plaza

Kingston Plaza, Inc., announced today that it has signed an agreement with Sears, Roebuck & Company for the leasing of a 87,000 square foot retail store and a 25,000 square foot detached car service station.

Both units will be located in the Kingston Plaza Shopping Center near the foot of Fair Street Extension.

At West End
The Sears retail store will be at the west end of the Plaza, approximately 180 feet from the present Grand Union Supermarket, and the car service station will be situated to the east of the large elm tree near the Fair Street Plaza road entrance.

Plans call for Colonial design of the two buildings and construction is expected to begin late this fall or early next spring with completion date scheduled for the fall of 1966.

For 2,300 Cars
With the addition of Sears, Kingston Plaza will have total retail space of over 250,000 square feet and parking for over 2,300 cars.

Plans are also under consideration for the construction of a group of smaller stores in the area between the Grand Union and Sears, which would tie in with the present expansion of the Grand Union store.

Stock Market Gains Back 25 PC of Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, winding up six weeks of gradual decline, has gained back in two days more than 25 per cent of the loss. It smashed to its biggest gain in 19 months Wednesday in heavy trading.

The surge, which took the widely watched Dow Jones industrial average up more than 16 points, was the biggest since Nov. 26, 1963, the first day of trading after President Kennedy's assassination.

Volume Wednesday totaled 6.93 billion shares.

U.S. Enters 6th Straight Year of Deficit Financing

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government entered its sixth straight year of red-ink financing today but pointed with some pride to a sharply reduced deficit in the fiscal year just ended.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler announced that the fiscal 1965 deficit, on which the books closed at midnight, was an estimated $3.5 billion. That compared with President Johnson's January forecast of a $6.3 billion deficit.

The secretary foresaw a $4.2-billion deficit for the new fiscal year. That implies a $1.1-billion improvement since January. Some other officials predicted privately that this deficit, too, will be whittled down if the business boom continues.

Assurance that the boom will indeed continue was given by Fowler at a fiscal year-end news conference. Conditions are excellent, he said, for "sound, stable and sustainable economic health and expansion."

Fowler went on, "So far as the eye of economic foresight can see ahead, there is no indication of economic difficulty."

"It is still entirely possible to

At last night's meeting, the board approved a resolution to extend for one year in the sum of $6,000 for the lease extension, payable in equal monthly installments of $500.

The Marine Midland Bank was authorized to supervise the sale of bonds for the new Merilina Avenue School at a fee not to exceed $1,900.

During a recess between the regular board meeting and the organizational session, board members honored Mrs. Edith Case Murphy, a trustee, at an informal party in observance of her birthday.

Competition Continues Through 3rd

The 1965 Miss New York Pageant opens at the Kingston High School Auditorium tonight at 8:30.

Preliminary winners in both the talent and swim suit competitions, from among half of the 26 contestants, will be selected tonight.

The other half will compete in the same categories Friday night when two additional preliminary winners will be named from among this group.

The points scored by all contestants will be tallied by the auditors, Peat, Marwick and Mitchell, and the ten scoring the highest number of points will be named as finalists. The finalists will again be judged in all three phases of the competition, and a new Miss New York, named Saturday night, the program of Saturday night starts at 8 o'clock.

Pageant officials stated that the judging procedures insure a wonderful show each night of the three-day spectacular and all girls, participating in the three phases of the competition can be seen by attending tonight and Friday. Seats tonight and Friday are available at the door starting at 7:45.

Because of the demand for Saturday night tickets and the fact that all seats are reserved, it is considered advisable to purchase Saturday tickets in advance at the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in the Governor Clinton Hotel, serving as pageant headquarters.

Souvenir program books, which provide the entire program and show which contestants take part each night of the preliminary, are available. They will also be sold at the auditorium. The book also contains photographs of each of the 26 contestants as well as the panel of judges and considerable other pertinent information.

Three Are Hurt As Car Hits Bus On Albany Ave.

Three local residents were injured late Wednesday afternoon as a car operated by William Coley, 30, of 24 West O'Reilly Street, allegedly sideswiped an Urban Transit Corp. bus across from the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The hit-and-run attack on Da Nang was carried out while a majority of the Americans on the key base were asleep.

U.S. military authorities in Saigon said their information indicated a small group of guerrillas—possibly six men—inflicted onto the base with explosives and 57mm recoilless rifles.

A spokesman said barbed wire circling the base was found cut.

A U.S. spokesman said one U.S. Air Force policeman was killed by small arms fire and two U.S. Marines were wounded.

Two C130 Hercules transports and an F102 Delta Dagger jet interceptor were destroyed, and another Hercules and two Delta Daggers were damaged, the spokesman said. All were at the southern end of the airstrip.

Kennedy Has No Fitness Formula, Advice for Lazy

By MARTHA COLE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy takes physical fitness in stride. He has no formula and no advice to the lazy.

"I don't do any pushups or anything like that," the New York Democrat said in a quick interview.

He simply skis, swims, climbs a mountain, hikes, sails, skin dives, plays baseball, ice skates and throws a mean football around.

He's off Friday to shoot some rapids on the Yampa and Green Rivers in Colorado and Utah, taking his wife and at least five of their nine children. It's a typical vacation for Kennedy.

He is seldom not doing something.

When Kennedy was attorney general and Associate Supreme Court Justice Byron R. White was his deputy, Kennedy kept a football on the mantel in his office. The two — White was an all-American in college — tossed the ball back and forth at times while trying to unsnarl legal problems.

The Kennedy family touch football games became famous when John F. Kennedy became president. All the brothers, sisters, in-laws and sometimes children joined in.

Cong Hits Da Nang Base, More Marines Go Ashore

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong killed one American, destroyed three planes and damaged three others in a hit-and-run attack on the Da Nang air base today. But U.S. Air Force and Navy planes struck at North Viet Nam during the day without letup.

Variety of Targets
Bridges, abradacs and radar installations were among the prime targets, and more propaganda leaflets were dropped over populated areas, a U.S. spokesman said. He said all planes returned safely.

More U.S. Marines landed in South Viet Nam, at the coastal city of Qui Nhon. A U.S. spokesman said between 400 and 500 were coming ashore from 7th Fleet ships and would provide security for the Qui Nhon area as well as "combat support for the republic of South Viet Nam's armed forces."

Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of Saigon, is the fourth area to be defended by the Leathernecks. The others are the air bases at Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, Chu Lai, 20 miles south of Da Nang, and Phu Bai, 35 miles north of Da Nang.

Guerrillas Lose Many
In the central highlands 150 miles south of Da Nang, four Americans and about 50 Vietnameses were killed in a Communist ambush near Cheo Reo.

The Red guerrillas were driven off with heavy losses after a day of close-in fighting.

The unofficial total of American combat dead in Viet Nam totaled 445 since December, 1961.

The hit-and-run attack on Da Nang was carried out while a majority of the Americans on the key base were asleep.

U.S. military authorities in Saigon said their information indicated a small group of guerrillas—possibly six men—inflicted onto the base with explosives and 57mm recoilless rifles.

A spokesman said barbed wire circling the base was found cut.

A U.S. spokesman said one U.S. Air Force policeman was killed by small arms fire and two U.S. Marines were wounded.

Two C130 Hercules transports and an F102 Delta Dagger jet interceptor were destroyed, and another Hercules and two Delta Daggers were damaged, the spokesman said. All were at the southern end of the airstrip.

He said fire from the recoilless rifles hit the four-engine turboprop transports and jet fighters.

A U.S. Army spokesman announced a Communist guerrilla from North Viet Nam was captured following the attack. He said the guerrilla admitted taking part in the assault.

To Streamline Committees

Withall Is Elected Education President

Elected president of the Board of Education of the Kingston School District Consolidated by unanimous vote at the annual organizational meeting Wednesday night, Arthur H. Withall, Rifton, was authorized to carry out his proposal to streamline the committee system by naming five basic committees instead of 10.

Trustee Withall, who served as vice president of the board, succeeds Dr. David Kline, of Kingston, who was not a candidate for a third term.

Mrs. Edith Case Murphy was elected by unanimous vote as vice president of the board for 1965-66. Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, was unanimously reelected clerk of the Board.

Mrs. Edna S. Morgan, principal account clerk, was reelected collector-treasurer of the school district.

Vincent G. Connelly was elected school attorney.

Explains His Plans
After taking office as president, Trustee Withall explained that he would like to streamline the committee system by appointing five basic committees instead of 10.

A resolution was unanimously passed empowering Withall to carry out his proposal on appointments. He said he expected to announce the committees within the next few days.

Withall told board members that under the new plan there would be a building committee, a transportation committee and a personnel committee, which would replace the title of a teachers' committee. A fourth committee would be a business management committee, which would handle all business matters including financial, bids and purchases. The fifth committee, the new president said, would be a public relations committee.

Five Members Each
Each committee, Withall noted would be composed of five members and each member would be responsible for attending all committee meetings. A new policy of notifying all members of the Board of Education of all committee meetings to give them an opportunity to attend meetings of committees of which they are not members, will be adopted, and notices of committee meetings also will be sent to school administrators.

The Board president said that by reducing the number of committees, board meetings might be expedited and more work might be accomplished.

Kline, Retiring As School Leader, Praises Staffs

Retiring as president of the Board of Education of the Kingston School District Consolidated after two years as head of the board and 10 years as a member, David Kline, paid tribute to the teaching staff, administrators and department heads.

Dr. Kline said he had found the attitude of the Kingston Teachers Association "friendly and cooperative and I believe based on mutual respect." Commenting on the Kingston Teachers Federation, the outgoing president said, "Although sympathetic to the goals of the KTF I must in all candor say I have not always agreed with the methods of their leadership."

Lauds Cooperation
Thanking board members for their support and cooperation in the past two years, Dr. Kline said, "Each of you has been sincere and devoted to the cause of better education here in Kingston and faithful in attending to your responsibilities. There have been some differences of opinions among us but at all times there has been a basic, mutual respect for each others point of view."

Dr. Kline said he is confident that in the coming year's stewardship of the school system here will "be in good hands."

Commenting further on his remarks of appreciation to school officials, employees in the board office and other employees, Dr. Kline said, "I believe we are indeed very fortunate in having

Chides LBJ On Speech At Frisco

Morse Says U.S. Can't Win It Alone

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse called on the Johnson administration today for an all-out effort to "stop the war" in Viet Nam and "to exhaust every possible means of doing so through the United Nations."

'Honored in Breach'

The Oregon Democrat, long an outspoken critic of President Johnson's Southeast Asian policy, declared that the President's 20th anniversary speech to the U.N. last week "unfortunately honored the charter of the organization more in the breach than in the observance."

Noting that Johnson expressed a willingness to accept whatever effective action the U.N. might take, Morse contended the President said nothing "to indicate that the United States is willing to accept the obligations for international behavior placed upon us by our signature on that charter."

"We can not stop the war alone," Morse declared in a Senate speech. "But the United Nations could, if it would, and the United States has more to gain from a U.N.-imposed peace than from a continuation of the fighting that can lead anywhere but to victory on our terms."

If anything has been learned, Morse said, "it is that the United States, acting alone, can not end the war."

Ford Plans Defense
While Morse spoke in the Senate, House Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan scheduled a morning news conference at which he seemed likely to get the opportunity to defend himself against criticism of House GOP chiefs.

Mike Mansfield of Montana, day by day Senate Democratic Leader, said the Senate that House Republican leaders are telling Johnson to step up the bombing of North Viet Nam and calling for a "complete victory" to be achieved without use of U.S. ground forces. Unless the President follows their advice, Mansfield said, the Republicans are threatening to withdraw their support.

Halverson Chosen As Architect for School at Katrine

Kingston's Board of Education at the June meeting Wednesday night, unanimously approved a resolution offered by Arthur M. Withall, board president, to engage Harry Halverson Associates as architect for the new Lake Katrine junior high school.

The new school will be built on the southerly side of Fording Place Road, Town of Ulster, on a 43-acre site known as Gates property.

School officials said the closing on the $113,000 parcel is expected to take place the latter part of July.

Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, reported last night that staff members expect to have the educational planning work started some time ago, complete about the middle of August.

Trustee Withall, as board president, was authorized to sign an agreement with Harry Halverson, in which the board agrees to pay for services during planning and construction of the Lake Katrine School a fee of six per cent of the construction cost of the project.

The board president said the new school will be designed to accommodate 1,000 pupils. He said it is hoped that the Lake Katrine Junior High school will be ready for occupancy by September, 1967.

Markes, Shaw Sign for Jobs; Aronica on Vocational Plan

Three-year contracts for Robert J. Markes, associate superintendent of Kingston School District Consolidated, and Ira M. Shaw, associate superintendent for business management, were approved Wednesday night at the June meeting of the Board of Education.

The contracts begin today and end June 30, 1968. W. Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, recommended that the board enter into the contracts with Markes and Shaw according to the terms of formal contracts between the two officials.

The Board unanimously granted Michael M. Aronica, director of vocational education, permission to act as director of the special project to develop a master plan for vocational education in the three-county area of Ulster, Greene and Sullivan counties during the year beginning today and ending June 30, 1966.

Aronica will continue in overall charge of the vocational education program for the Kingston School District and will remain on the payroll of the district with a salary of $15,000. His salary will revert to the school district's schedule for his position as of July 1.

The resolution offered by Mrs. Edith Case Murphy, seconded by

Guarding Against Guerrillas Just About Impossible

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Seasoned military men say the Communist attack on the key Da Nang Air Base points up the near impossibility of totally safeguarding even a heavily defended installation from guerrillas.

Da Nang is probably the best-guarded of all the bases in South Viet Nam where Americans have posted men, planes and equipment.

About 9,500 Marines have been deployed around the base since early March. For weeks, they have patrolled aggressively far out into the countryside in "search and destroy" operations designed to root out and break up Communist concentrations.

And yet Red guerrillas were able to make a surprise penetration attack on the Da Nang base in darkness. First reports said Viet Cong mortars poured about 30 shells on the airstrip. In Saigon said their latest information indicated a small group of guerrillas infiltrated the base with explosives and 57mm recoilless rifles and inflicted the damage. These reports said only about 10 rounds of mortars hit the outer extremity of the base and apparently did no damage.

However, military men consider the mortar a particularly effective weapon for launching under the cover of darkness. The weapon can be broken down and carried in sections, along with its ammunition, by a few men.

It can be assembled behind a bush screen or at night within range of target. It makes no loud report on firing. It sends off no telltale flame.

Mother Is Hoping To Find Child Missing 5 Years

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — "Gee, she'd be in the fourth grade by now and could read," said Lupe Gallegos of Alamogordo.

Mrs. Gallegos is the mother of Sharon Lynn Gallegos who was not quite five years old when she disappeared July 21, 1960.

As the fifth anniversary of the child's disappearance approaches, Mrs. Gallegos wrote Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., to ask for assistance.

Montoya said FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had been asked whether the investigation is complete and to furnish her with an up-to-date report.

"I should be hearing from Mr. Hoover in the very near future, and I shall contact you at that time," Montoya's letter said.

Mrs. Gallegos also asked for publicity of the case hoping Sharon might read it and notify authorities.

An FBI bulletin circulated after the disappearance quotes witnesses as saying a man and woman kidnapped Sharon and that they were driving an old model, dark green car.

Sharon was playing with other children at the time and one was quoted by officers as saying the car had stopped and the woman asked Sharon to come with her, promising to buy her clothes and candy. When Sharon refused, the playmate said, the woman dragged her into the car.

Other reports indicated the woman was seen in the vicinity of the Gallegos home several times prior to the incident.

Saranac Power Co.

Going to Niagara Corp.
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The Niagara-Mohawk Power Corp. will acquire the Paul Smith Electric Light and Power and Railroad Co. of Saranac Lake under an agreement announced today.

The companies said in a joint announcement that the transfer of ownership would be effected by an exchange of common stock. The transfer is subject to approval by state and federal agencies.

The firm, owned by Paul Smith's College, serves about 5,000 customers in parts of St. Lawrence, Franklin, Clinton and Essex counties.

39 New Diesels

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) —The Erie-Lackawanna Railroad has been given a clear track to obtain 39 new diesel-electric locomotives at a cost of $8,029,050. The Public Service Commission authorized the railroad Wednesday to buy 24 locomotives from the General Motors Corp. and 15 from General Electric Co.

Under terms of the purchase agreement, 39 obsolete engines will be traded in. The railroad will complete payment for the locomotives on Aug. 1, 1980.

Appointed to Bench

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) —Assemblyman Daniel S. Dickinson, who has represented the First District of Broome County since 1955, has been appointed a judge of the Broome County Family Court.

Dickinson, 47, of Whitney Point, was appointed Wednesday by Gov. Rockefeller to fill the unexpired term of the late Judge John O'Loughlin. It ends Dec. 31, 1965. Dickinson, however, may run for a full six-year term in the November election.

Fighting Extradition From Wyoming to Troy

NEWCASTLE, Wyo. (AP)—Norman Briggs, fighting extradition to Troy, N.Y., where he disappeared five years ago, faces a hearing Friday on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Briggs will appear before District Judge Rodney T. Guthrie in Lusk, about 80 miles from Newcastle. Guthrie Wednesday turned down a request that Briggs be freed on bond pending the hearing.

Briggs, known in Wyoming as Clay Hollister, filed the petition through lawyers Wednesday at an extradition hearing before Justice of the Peace Ted Cochran. Briggs disappeared and was believed drowned while scuba diving in a reservoir near his Troy home. He showed up at a ranch near Newcastle last winter, using the name Clayton Hollister.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General John A. Gronouski today issued a final order to make the Zip code mandatory for all bulk users of second and third class mail by Jan. 1, 1967.

Mrs. Gerald Carson, trustee, and Leon Karpel, director, Mid-Hudson Libraries, the public library system with 50 members in Dutchess, Putnam, Ulster, Greene and Columbia Counties, will attend the American Library Association Convention in Detroit, July 1-9. Mrs. Carson, who has just been reelected director of Region 7 for the American Library Trustees Association, and a member of that board, has been invited to attend a special workshop on "The National Inventory of Trusteeship," a session devoted to a detailed study of the state of library trusteeship. Karpel will attend the Library Building Institute, a two-day workshop devoted to critiques of library buildings.

CHICAGO (AP)—The opening of the fifth general convention of the United Church of Christ today may bring the election of the church's first Negro moderator.

He is Dr. Hollis F. Price, 61, a layman and president of Le Moyne College in Memphis, Tenn.

Dr. Price was the nominating committee's choice. Competition could come from the floor before the vote.

The synod staff, however, prepared a biography of Dr. Price, listing his title as moderator 1965-1967.

Moderator is the highest honorary office of the denomination of slightly more than two million persons. As official representative of the church, the new moderator will visit local congregations and districts and preside over the next synod, in 1967.

The chief executive officer is the president, currently Dr. Ben M. Herbst.

Red Cross Activities Over Widespread Flood Areas

W. R. Peters, chapter chairman of the Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, announced today that in the "most recent reports received concerning recent floodings in eastern Colorado, western Kansas, and northern New Mexico an estimated 18,000 persons have been forced from their homes. Colorado Red Cross disaster, Eldon Bush, described the flood "as the most vicious and widespread in this area in the past 30 years."

Twelve more disaster workers are now enroute to supplement relief efforts of the 65 Red Cross workers who have been on duty in this area. Eastern Area Headquarters, American Red Cross, has assigned 29 of their staff to help in the area. In addition, there are 25 Department of Welfare workers on loan to the Red Cross to assist the thousands of canteen and first aid shelter volunteers along the Colorado River.

Shelter Operations
As the South Platte and Arkansas Rivers smashed their ways into Colorado and Kansas, the Red Cross continued shelter operations from Sterling to Dodge City. At Holly, Colo., Red Cross fed 1,500 and sheltered families at the Holly Country Club. In Lamar, Colo., a town of 3,000, 1,000 were being sheltered and 1,500 fed.
With flood waters past, Pueblo and Colorado Springs registration of some 200 to 300 families affected by the flood waters is now under way. Red Cross reported $1,100 had been spent on emergency care up to June 22 and the heaviest cost was to come with long-term planning.

Home Destroyed
Early surveys in Pueblo, Colorado show 16 homes have been destroyed and 126, damaged. In Deer Trail, Colo., which was hit by the flooding Bijou Creek, surveys show seven homes destroyed, 49 home and six house trailers, damaged. More than 250 persons were sheltered and fed by the Red Cross on the night of June 19. Recent surveys of Littleton and Englewood show 93 house trailers were destroyed and 334 others damaged.

The Red Cross continues shelter and feeding activities north of Denver, Colo. in the Sterling, Fort

Some 333 families have been given Red Cross assistance. Frank Reeves, disaster chairman of the Denver Red Cross Chapter, reports $25,000 has been spent already to provide food, clothing and shelter. "This is only the beginning," he said, "we barely touched the short term needs. Long-range planning to come is always the biggest expenditure," he states. The Denver chapter has issued cleaning supplies to aid the cleanup in affected areas in western Kansas.

Blood Moved to Safety

The blood supply from the Red Cross Regional Blood Center at Garden City had to be moved to safety when the Arkansas River flooded the town. Early Red Cross reports from the hard-hit Garden City-Dodge City area show 165 homes with major damage, 1145 with minor damage, three house trailers destroyed, and 25 house trailers damaged. At least 1455 families are suffering loss in Kansas.

More than 6,500 volunteers and emergency workers are getting emergency care in food and other needs. Red Cross volunteers from Wichita, Kansas, are manning mobile canteens in the affected areas and two communications trucks furnished by Red Cross are breaching problems of downed telephone lines.

The flood watch continues as the crest moves east. More workers are moving into northern New Mexico since flooding is now affecting families in Lincoln and Colfax Counties with wide scale flooding in other areas in the northern part of the state.

Budget Overexpended

Red Cross National Headquarters in Washington, D. C. reports the 1964-65 disaster budget is overexpended by more than $2 million. All local chapters are being urged to accept voluntary contributions of funds for direct relief of the disaster victims. Contributions made to the Ulster County Chapter, 308 Clinton Avenue, a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Dropping Stamps Customers' Wish, Food Fair Says

Three area Food Fair supermarkets, closed briefly for remodeling, were reopened Wednesday with a new "price structure of low, discount prices for the same high quality products."

In line with the new price structure, all three stores — now known as Food Fair Quality Discount supermarkets — have discontinued giving trading stamps.

The supermarkets are in the Mid-City Shopping Center, Menands; 861 Second Avenue, Troy and Route 9W and Stahlman Place, Kingston.

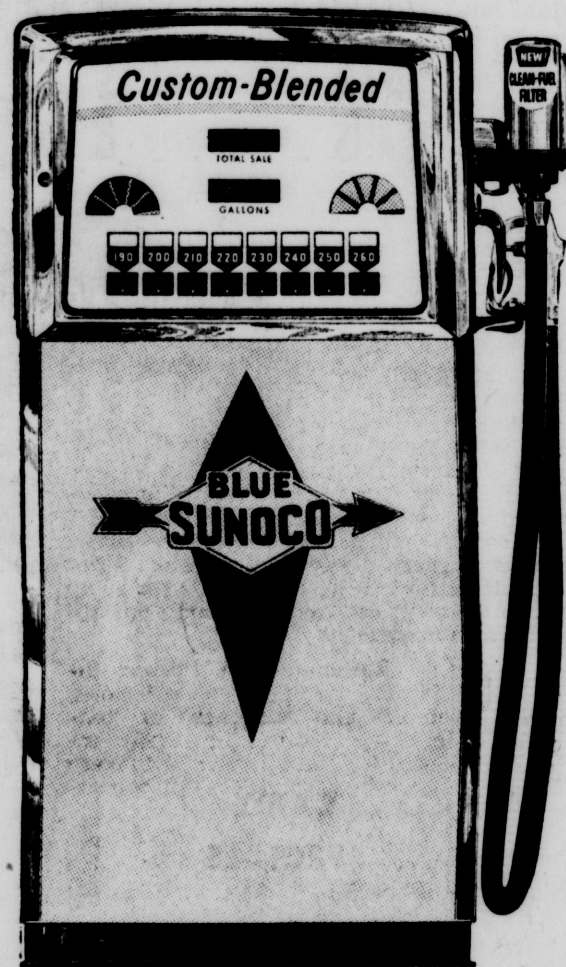

According to Herb Mann, Food Fair supervisor, the decision to discontinue trading stamps at the firm's three stores was "prompted by a customer survey in each of the three areas."

"This survey," said Mann, "indicated more customer interest in low prices than in the incentives offered through trading stamps."

"We shall continue to provide products of the highest possible quality, but with new, low discount prices," he added.
Merchants Green trading stamps still may be purchased at all three stores, said Mann, by those customers who want to complete partially-filled books.

Both the Menands and Troy Food Fair Quality Discount supermarkets now also feature new interior decors "of pleasant, harmonizing pastel colors."

Would Ban Chutists

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Kettner, Middle Hope. With Chief John M. Gibbons and enlistee Trevaill in the back row is Wayne Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Craig, Kingston, also joining under the delay program. Under this program recruits have 120 days after enlistment before reporting for basic training which count off their total military obligation. It also allows them to start basic training at a higher pay rate than they would if they enlisted in another service or if they go directly to basic training. All men are recent graduates of high school and are guaranteed a technical training school before enlistment.

National Pattern In Real Estate Followed Locally

Trends in the residential real estate market of Kingston resemble in many aspects the national pattern, said Robert Kershaw, president of the Ulster County Board of Realtors, today.

He explained he had recently received the results of a nationwide survey conducted by the Department of Research of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, to which it was possible to compare local market conditions.

Favor Single Homes

"While it is well known that real estate markets vary from city to city, and even within sub-areas of a city, there are often generalizations and comparable trends," said Kershaw. "Thus we find that Kingston like many other communities of the nation, has a strong demand for single family homes—a demand that is greater than was predictable a year ago, though we expected a population increase and a continuation of prosperity."

He said that while consumer interest in both existing and new homes in Kingston is strong, existing homes continue to attract more inquiries. This is also a national trend, he reported.

Buyer demand for existing homes is "up substantially" in 11 per cent of the market areas, said Kershaw, giving statistics of "up moderately" in 41 per cent, "about the same" in 32 per cent, and "down" in 16 per cent. Kingston should be interested to know that it is in the "up moderately" category mentioned above, he added.

"Prices nationwide are about the same as a year earlier. For example, for houses built in 1950 or later and selling in the $15,000 to $25,000 range, prices are unchanged in 49 per cent of the areas, higher in 30 per cent, and lower in 21 per cent. In Kingston they rank generally in the higher category," he said.

Encourages Maintenance

"Ulster County Board of Realtors has always encouraged home maintenance and improvements. Aside from the comfort and enjoyment provided the owner, condition is an important factor in a house's resale value. Neglect is costly, as reflected in the current market. Prices for houses in poorly maintained areas are down in 66 per cent of the communities taking part in the survey, while for older dwellings in well-maintained neighborhood values are strong.

"One interesting thing about the market," said Kershaw, "is that many people do not realize that mortgage funds are readily available for qualified borrowers.

"Often we hear of people renting and saving until the day they can purchase a home. Under current market conditions, with lenders actively competing for borrowers, families wishing to become homeowners may well be advised to consult a realtor concerning their qualification as a buyer. They may be pleasantly surprised," he said.

Ulster County Board of Realtors is one of more than 1,500 real estate boards in the country which are members of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, the survey sponsor. The boards are comprised of 80,000 realtors who pledge adherence to the National Association's code of ethics.

Mothers Score Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A group of vigilant mothers apparently has won a double victory in their battle to restore tranquility to little Franz Park.

Young toughs who had been vandalizing the neighborhood park are steering clear of it and police are watching it more closely.

Mrs. John Guffey, one of 30 baseball bat-brandishing moms who marched on the Park Monday, said they will be there again, "but we don't expect any trouble."

Another of the mothers, Mrs. Pat Feiner, who lives just across the street from the park, said it was peaceful Tuesday night.

Ketch Sails Pacific

Starts on Voyage That Has Been a Dream Five Years

By HUGH DOWNS
Host of "Today" Show
For Cynthia Lowry,
On Vacation

NEW YORK (AP) — It isn't every man who gets the chance to realize a dream. But, by the time you read this, that's what I will be doing — aboard the 65-foot ketch Thane somewhere on the Pacific Ocean.

With me will be a crew of six, including my son, H. R. For four months we will leave television and the rest of "civilized life" far behind, following the trade winds to such intriguing ports of call as the Galapagos Islands, Nuku Hiva, Tahiti and Christmas Island.

Some of my friends are startled that I'm really going through with this thing. I'm not a foolhardy kid, they point out, but a grown man entering middle age. I have a family, a $8,500 miles in a small boat is, at best, a risky way to travel.

Suspected He Was Kidding

Perhaps they're right. But this voyage has been growing in my mind for five years, and no one can talk me out of it now, including NBC. In 1962, when I asked for a leave-of-absence clause in my contract, the network agreed. I think they thought I would never do anything so idiotic as to walk away from two network shows, that I'd keep talking about this adventure the rest of my life — without sailing past the three-mile limit.

Even I suspected I was kidding myself. But, bit by bit, the dream has come to life. For three years I investigated sailing ships until finally I saw the Thane, sailed her and fell in love with her.

Really Gets Started

Then I began assembling a crew. I brushed up on my long-time hobby of navigation. I gathered charts, weather records, studied the ocean currents in the Caribbean and Pacific, the Galapagos Islands off the South American coast, and French Polynesia.

I contacted the Marine Institute of the University of Miami and arranged with them to take aboard equipment for various oceanographic projects. During the trip we will devote much of our time to studying plankton and the spawning habits of tuna.

TOPS 'EM ALL — Milady's 42-inch wide hat was the cynosure of all eyes as contrasted with Milord's topper on first day of royal race meeting at Ascot, England.

Finally, it was time to take the big step — telling NBC that I wouldn't be around for nearly half a year. "Why?" someone asked, and I realized it was the same question I had asked myself over and over.

Wonders Why

Am I running toward something or away from something? Am I an overgrown adolescent trying to recapture his youth when I should be sedately settled on my veranda?

Or is it that there comes a time in a man's life when he must tune out the high, strident voice of common sense and listen to the siren song of his most fanciful, romantic visions? I don't know the answer. But maybe it will come to me between the Galapagos Islands and Tahiti.

What I do know is that I've got a fine crew. Our little boat is as seaworthy as man can make it. Every danger has been assessed, every precaution taken. Now, all we need is a little cooperation from the Pacific and the elements.

October Is Month

If all goes well, I will be back in New York sometime in mid-October.

At this writing there isn't much else to do but get my head shaved (no haircuts or shaves for four months), stow my gear aboard and cast off.

Perhaps this is a foolhardy venture. Perhaps my friends are right — I should abandon ship before I ever set foot on deck.

But I don't intend to. I feel younger and more alive than I have for 20 years. That alone is worth any risk involved.

667 Fires in March

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The number of woodland fires in the state this spring was below average despite the prolonged drought.

State Conservation Department figures show 667 fires in the March-May period this year. The 20-year average is 717.

Travia Is Hoping For Speaker Seat In Assembly Again

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Speaker Anthony J. Travia says he enjoys his position in the Assembly's leadership seat and has no thoughts of leaving it to sit on a judge's bench.

The Brooklyn Democrat told the Associated Press Wednesday he would seek re-election and added:

"If we (the Democrats) have the majority again next year, and I believe we will, there's no reason why I should not be able to continue as speaker."

There had been speculation Travia might retire in favor of a judicial post.

Travia said he expected Assembly Democrats would elect leaders at the next session without the bitterness and fighting that marked his election as speaker last February.

Travia and Senate Majority Leader Joseph Zaretzki had the backing of Mayor F. Wagner of New York in the seven-week-long struggle for the Legislature's leadership posts. They were denied the top spots, by a group of anti-Wagner Demo-

Pouplar at Home, Not Overseas

Surveying Johnson Record For First Half of Year 1965

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — As President Johnson heads into the last half of 1965 his record can also be split in half: very successful at home; a lot of unfinished, dangling overseas business that leaves the world wondering.

His popularity at home is high, the polls say. Overseas he has been criticized for his handling of foreign affairs, particularly in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

He hasn't shown yet the same masterful talent for foreign affairs that he has demonstrated repeatedly in domestic problems.

His relations with Congress, business, labor, and civil rights groups have been excellent and tranquil. In setting Congress to do what he wants he is well on the way to the best record since President Franklin D. Roosevelt's early days.

He talks a lot, some times moralizing, some times in platitudes and some times in a way unmatched by any president, as in a recent speech expressing his compassion (a favorite word of his) for the Negro.

The astonishing energy he has shown in working at his job always has raised the inevitable question: How long can he keep it up?

There is a broad mystification about what to expect in foreign policy where Johnson plays the cards very close. For example: In six months how much deeper might the United States be in the Vietnamese war?

When he went to San Francisco last week to address the 20th anniversary meeting of the United Nations he got a lukewarm reception although the reason is not clear.

Some of the restraint among the statesmen listening to him may have been intended to express disapproval of his foreign actions; some may have been out of disappointment that he didn't come up with new ideas and programs.

President John F. Kennedy, at his death but not in his first few months as chief executive, had a far more shining image abroad than Johnson. But this was after he got off to a bad start by backing the Cuban refugees' disastrous invasion of Cuba.

Yet, Kennedy's policy basically was not much different from Johnson's — except for the bombing of North Viet Nam.

Johnson has been criticized for intervening in the Dominican revolt, a reminder to Latin Americans of the many times this country intervened in their affairs before. They couldn't tell whether they were looking at the beginning of a similar era under Johnson.

But Kennedy got an even worse reaction for the Cuban invasion.

Kennedy had slowly been building up American forces in Viet Nam. It's useless to try to guess now what he would have done eventually if confronted with the situation Johnson faced: Growing conquest by the Viet Cong and steadily developing chaos in South Viet Nam which, without American help, would have collapsed long ago.

There have been scattered, but comparatively few, critical voices against Johnson in Congress. Will this last?

Viet Nam Report by Boyle

Many Sick Come to Qui Nhon For Treatment at Outclinic

By HAL BOYLE
QUI NHON, South Viet Nam (AP) — They come on infirm feet. They come on pallets laid across shoulder poles borne by friends or relatives. They come in fishnet hammocks strung on the back of a small, three-wheeled ambulance.
Each day at least a hundred young or old Vietnamese poor come for treatment at the outclinic of the Holy Family Hospital here. On its staff of 11 Catholic sisters are five from America, the only ones in South Viet Nam.
In Shaded Compound
The two-floor, 44-bed hospital is built around a compound shaded by palm trees and abounding in colorful tropical flowers. It is a haven of comfort and hope for thousands of miserable refugees who have fled into the city to escape the Viet Cong.
"This area always has been a Viet Cong stronghold," said the mother superior, Sister Karen Gossman, 42, of Louisville, Ky.
"In 1954 before many of them went North, they burned and looted the entire city."
Sister Karen, a robust, kindly woman with a sense of humor that beams through her spectacles, founded the hospital in 1961. She worked as a nurse on a hospital ship in the Pacific during World War II before joining the order of Catholic medical missions sisters. The order has hospitals in 35 countries.
Tells of Work
Sister Karen told of her work as she walked through the clinic, pausing to pat a scrawny, fretful, hollow-eyed child, or cheer a worried mother.
"Two of the sisters are doctors, and they see every patient," she said. "It is the suffering of the children that affects us most, although all the adults are victims of the war in one way or the other. They have such a hopeless feeling."
"In addition to the everyday types of illness, there's been a lot of cholera, measles, plague and typhoid. In fact they are epidemic here, but the government doesn't like to admit it."
The sisters work from 7 to 10 years before getting home leave. Sister Karen spent eight years in Pakistan before coming here.
Some Pay
An attempt is made to make the hospital self-supporting. Those of the poor who can afford it pay five piasters — about seven cents — a visit to the clinic. Ward care is 10 piasters daily. But the hospital distributes free nearly $700 worth of medicine each month. It is helped by Catholic relief agencies.

Sister Karen said that neither she nor the other sisters worry about their fate if the enemy should seize the city, which lies on the central coastal lowlands between Saigon and Da Nang.
"We've given our life to God, and He has brought us here," she said. "We feel that what happens to us is His business not ours."
And then, as if afraid she had spoken too seriously, Sister Karen smiled sweetly — and made the worst pun I've heard in Viet Nam.
"You know what we call this country?" she asked, chuckling. "We call it the coup-coup country — because it has so many political coups."
The other American sisters at the hospital are Brenda Burke, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; Virginia Sayers, Toledo, Ohio; Rosalie Pollini, Dallas, Tex., and Sheila Marie McGuinnis, Troy, N.Y.

Gloversville Man Named
WASHINGTON (AP) — Samuel D. Berger, a career diplomat from Gloversville, N.Y., has been named deputy assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.
Berger has been with the State Department for 20 years. He was U.S. Ambassador to Korea from 1961 to 1964.

BRIDGE Uppercut Ruff Is Point Maker

By JACOBY & SON
1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Most of the mixed pairs in the Mid-South Regionals at Memphis arrived in four spade contracts after North doubled West's opening club bid.
The contract was not a good one because South had to lose two club tricks to start and was left with an unsatisfactory trump holding, but after West continued with the jack of clubs and East discarded, declarer always managed to make his contract.
The play was quite simple. South would ruff and lead a low trump toward dummy. West would duck and dummy's king would hold the trick. Back would come the six of trumps and it wouldn't make any difference whether East played the jack or the obligatory finesse play of a small trump and West would have to win the trick with the ace. Later, South would pick up East's last trump and claim the balance.
When Paul Leavitt and Shirley Lazarus of New Orleans defended the hand there was a different result.
Paul led the deuce of clubs at trick three. He had reasoned that there was no way to beat the hand unless the defense could collect two trump tricks and he had hoped that East would hold exactly the right trumps for a double uppercut.
Shirley had a fine chance to chuck the hand. She might have ruffed with her deuce, but Shirley saw no reason not to play a high spade and ruff with the ten.
South overruffed and led a trump, but Paul was ready to handle his case. He won with his ace and led a fourth club whereupon there was no way for South to keep Shirley from making her jack of trumps.

Chicago Mayor Shocks CR Top With Red Blame

CHICAGO (AP) — Civil rights leaders have expressed shock over Mayor Richard J. Daley's statement that demonstrations against Chicago's school superintendent have been aided and influenced by Communists.

Daley told a news conference Wednesday that "everyone knew they (Communists) were drawn here from all over the Midwest" for hearings conducted May 25, 26 and 27 by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Demonstrations occurred at the hearings called to investigate communism.

The Communists stayed on, the mayor said, agitating for dismissal of Schools Supt. Benjamin C. Willis. Integrationist critics contend Willis' administration is preserving alleged de facto racial segregation of public schools.

Daley said his statement was supported by police documentation. Police officials said a list of at least 11 names had been submitted to Daley. The names were not revealed.

Debate After July 4

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security-health care bill is the Senate's pending business today, but debate on it won't start until after the Fourth of July holiday weekend.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield made that announcement Wednesday. The House passed the bill April 8 and the Senate passed it April 8.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — July should be livelier this time than customary for the usually take-it-easy month. Factories will be busier. Fewer will be closing down for long vacations. In slacker years these often are prolonged for maintenance, repair and other reasons.

Economic Pace Faster
A lot of the bustle in the coming month will be due to concern over what may happen in the steel labor negotiations. But a lot will be due to the generally faster economic pace this year than last.

The business upswing is now in its 53rd month, with slow-downs more talked about than apparent as yet.

The stock market provided the most excitement in June. But the long downturn in prices appears to have changed few business plans.

Steel mills report orders on hand will keep them turning out metal at a faster clip than previous Julys.

Customers will be stockpiling some of it as a hedge against the threat of a steel strike Sept. 1. But manufacturers will be using up a lot of the steel to meet their own big backlog of orders.

Expect Situation to Jell
Many expect the steel labor situation to jell this month. Labor's demands should become clear — and also, how far management will go in meeting them. At stake: A strike, an expensive settlement that could mean price increases, or a settlement within the gains in productivity so that the price line can be held.

Concern over the steel situation is reported to be affecting some of the auto industry's plans. One result is to make for a lively July. Shutdowns for model changeovers may come a bit later this year, while the industry piles up a stock of cars in dealers' hands to tide them over in case a steel strike hampered production in the early fall.

Many business firms report confidence that profits will continue to rise during July and the rest of the third quarter. Corporate earnings hit a record pace in the first three months of the year. The total apparently rose again in the last three months, although probably at a slower rate.

Unless unexpected events in July deal blows to business and consumer confidence, better than seasonal activity should keep the comparative, profit figures on the pleasant side.

Americans on Move

One activity that seems sure to have a fresh record in the bag is vacation and travel spending.

Americans are taking longer vacations, longer trips, and spending more on their way and after they get there. Benefitting are the resorts themselves, transportation companies, gas stations, motels, sellers of recreation gear. The last can range all the way from swimming suits to cabin cruisers, mountain climbing outfits to seashore cottages.

A lot of other places besides Wall Street are going to be busier than ever this July.

Chesapeake Bay Admiral Retires As Hotel Closes

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — When Marcellus Gabriel Hall, attired as always in his starched khaki uniform glistening with the 10 stars that designate him admiral of Chesapeake Bay, walks down the tree-lined oval drive at Carvel Hall today, he'll complete a temporary job that lasted more than half a century.

Carvel Hall, a hotel that has been the center of Annapolis social life for two centuries, closes today. And Hall, 72, the Negro who has been its major domo more than 52 years, will be out of a job. Hall says he's had a couple of job offers but he hasn't decided whether to accept.

The Maryland Legislature appropriated money to purchase the hotel when it was learned that the yellow brick structure was to be demolished for a parking lot. The William Paca House portion of the building, built in 1763 by the Maryland signer of the Declaration of Independence, will be restored. The hotel section, built in 1890, is to be razed.

Carvel Hall is the only major hotel in this home of the U.S. Naval Academy, and Hall was the first friend that thousands of midshipmen found here.

When they would bring their dates to the hotel after a dance, Hall was there to enforce the rule that all floors above the first were out of bounds. As the 1 a.m. curfew neared, he would sound off with a stern, "All ashore that's going ashore."

Reminiscing about his early days at the hotel, Hall recalled that the "manager wanted me to help him with his bell boys. I agreed to do it for just one day. It's been a long day."

More than 230 Maryland dignitaries including Gov. and Mrs. J. Millard Tawes turned out Tuesday night to honor Hall. As the stocky, balding man rose from the table of honor to accept the governor's citation for service, he remarked: "Well, here I am. It took me a little time to get up to this head table, but as the eagle in the lobby says, 'Don't give up the ship.'"

Germany's long-range World War I cannon "Big Bertha" was named for Mrs. Bertha Krupp of the Krupp industrial empire.

Algeria Closes Cuban News Unit

ALGIERS (AP) — The military regime of Col. Houari Boumedienne has ordered Prensa Latina, the Cuban news agency, to close its Algiers office because it distributed a speech by Fidel Castro attacking the new government.

A police search of the agency's office uncovered "clear proof" that Prensa Latina had printed anti-Boumedienne tracts, the announcement said.

It accused Prensa Latina of "subversion" and a hostile and irresponsible attitude toward the Algerian revolution.

There was no immediate indication whether Cuban newsmen would be expelled.

Castro, in his speech in Havana, had accused Boumedienne and his associates of betraying Algeria's "socialist revolution."

Boumedienne, in a speech Wednesday, referred indirectly to Castro's speech. He said Algeria has no need for advice from abroad on how to put socialism into practice.

Early Bird Service Free Pending Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp. has been given temporary authority to provide its Early Bird satellite service free to broadcasters, pending determination of the rates to be charged for commercial service.

Some broadcasters have contended the rates Comsat set are too high.

At the same time Wednesday, the Federal Communications Commission gave Comsat authority to assemble a third Early Bird-type satellite from parts already on hand, for a future launch.

Transfers Control

WARSAW (AP) — The Polish government is transferring control of the 42,500-man internal security and frontier forces from the interior ministry to the defense ministry.

Diplomatic sources viewed the move as a reduction in power and prestige for the interior affairs minister. Gen. Mieczyslaw Moczar, regarded as an ambitious hard-liner. They said it exemplified how the regime of Wladyslaw Gomulka maintains a balance among the factions of the ruling Communist party.

Wolcott Disperses Crowd

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Joe (Jersey Joe) Wolcott helped disperse an angry crowd of youths Tuesday night in Camden, N.J., after a policeman shot and killed a man in a county park.

The city's director of public safety, Keith Kauffman, sent Wolcott, who is his assistant, and a number of police and detectives to the scene.

Sound as the Rock

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — British Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan's smile had a crack in it.

Heaping praise on the U.S. economy, he said, "It is as sound as the Liberty Bell."

Told that the Liberty Bell is cracked, Callaghan said, "Well, let's say that it's as sound as the Rock of Gibraltar."

Watching for Four Years

Observer Tells How Cong Survives Modern Weapons

EDITOR'S NOTE — How is the Viet Cong able to do it? How can a guerrilla force survive the onslaught of modern weapons and go on to fight another day? Here is a study of guerrilla methods in Viet Nam, reported by a correspondent whose four years in the war area have given him many chances to observe Viet Cong methods.

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — You can pretty well reconstruct the way the Viet Cong operates:

A small brown man squats underground in an improvised echo chamber, straining his ears for the slightest sound.

Squatting For Hours
Naked except for black shorts, a long rice pouch over one shoulder and a belt slung with hand grenades, he has been squatting patiently for hours.

It is nearly dark in the chamber, except for daylight streaming through the sound slots around the top. Through these slots, the first sounds come, reflecting from the curved sides of the chamber and amplifying at the man's ears. Then the distant thudding of helicopter rotor blades.

The man, wriggling through a short tunnel to the surface, can yell an alarm. Instantly, shadowy men lounging or cooking at the bases of the tall trees are on their feet and moving fast. The heavy equipment from last night's battle has been stowed for future use in deep, camouflaged holes. The bodies have been buried.

The men move rapidly, scattering in many directions in twos and threes. This is their base area, and they know every feature of the dense jungle in the area — the hidden trails, the camouflaged bunkers and tunnels, the gun emplacements, the mines and booby traps.

Positions Improved
Viet Cong positions were first prepared here years ago and with each month the positions have been improved.

The entrance to a tunnel might be under a heavy rock, it might be under the heart of a peasant's hut, it might be under water in the bank of a mountain stream. Only by sheer luck would a government soldier find one, and if he did, he probably would kill only a few Viet Cong. The rest would be elsewhere.

In an air raid, some of the tunnels and bunkers would be crushed. A jellied furnace of napalm would ooze down into some of the air holes. But many of the bunkers would be deep enough to survive even direct hits by heavy bombs, and their galleries of men and weapons would survive. At nightfall, it would be safe to move around again.

Nearly always, the Viet Cong will know what to expect, long in advance.

Warnings Sounded

The warning may come from the echo chamber. It may come in a radio message from a comrade miles away. It may come from peasants in the area, who either fear the Viet Cong or are more or less on the Viet Cong side. It may come from a bar girl who was drinking with government or American troops the night before.

The South Vietnamese haul men and cannon and gear in trucks as far as they can, or use helicopters that may be limited in their landing zones to a few clear patches in the jungle. The guerrilla almost always will move overland, toting everything he needs on his back, and skirting the roads, unless he wants to ambush them.

When the government forces are finished for the day, they probably will move to some safer area before nightfall. Night belongs to the guerrilla.

In the jungle, the wilderness itself is the guerrilla's best friend. In the cities and towns, the guerrillas' best camouflage is people. A guerrilla terrorist in a crowded city looks no different than hundreds of thousands of other youths.

Identification Difficult
"We have yet to develop a machine that could tell at a glance whether or not a man is a Viet Cong. If we could do that, this battle would be won," a U.S. counterintelligence operative said recently.

So far, the powerful weapons of the 20th century have had little more effect on the Viet Cong guerrillas than did the British Redcoats, with their superior musketry, on the American guerrillas of two centuries ago. It is a hard tactic to beat.

N.Y. Gets Brief Shower Minutes After Ceremony

NEW YORK (AP) — Indian Chief Black Cloud looked heavenward and implored the great spirit to bring rain to this parched area.

And rain — well, a shower at least — did fall a few minutes later.

Some unkind skeptics, however, might point out that the sky was black with clouds when Chief Black Cloud performed the "Mating of the Waters" ceremony at the World's Fair Wednesday.

The chief, known as Elton Greene, is a 75-year-old member of the Tuscarora Indian nation, five miles from Niagara Falls.

He was assisted in the ceremony by Claudia Miller, 19, "Maid of the Mist" for the July 10-18 celebration by that name in Niagara Falls.

Happy, but Hiccup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — More than 1,000 artisans of the American Scientific Glassblowers Society, meeting in San Francisco, say they're very happy with their work — except for one thing: Glassblowing makes you hiccup.

Probe Frozen Assets

State police at Ellenville were today investigating a burglary at the Fresco Frozen Food Company plant on Route 209, just outside the village of Ellenville. No details were available as to whether anything had been taken.

Niagara Falls Is Facing Bus Strike

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — This city of more than 100,000 persons faces a bus strike Wednesday unless a contract agreement is reached by then.

The strike was sanctioned by drivers and mechanics of Division 1342, Amalgamated Transit Union, AFL-CIO, which has been attempting to negotiate a contract with the Rochester Transit Co., manager of the city's transit system.

A union spokesman said Wednesday wages appeared to be the main stumbling block to a new contract. Present wage rates were unavailable.

Federal Mediator Samuel H. Sackman has set Friday for a resumption of negotiations.

Injuries Are Fatal

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — An automobile accident 10 days ago has claimed the life of Peter M. Panebianco, 23, of Fulton. Panebianco died Tuesday night in Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered June 19 when his car left a rural road and struck a tree south of Cortland.

May Be First

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky believes the contracts it awarded for 10 miles of road construction may be the country's first under the Appalachian regional development program. Contracts totaling nearly $2.5 million were awarded under the so-called "Quick Start" program.

OFF TO MEXICO—The first contingent of Europe Mexico West Caravans Inc. leaves Dietz Stadium Wednesday for summer camping tour to Mexico. Thirty teenagers made up the group under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Loop of Saugerties. The European tour group of 21 left Wednesday night under the supervision of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur E. Oudemool of Old Dutch Church. They will arrive in London today on the first leg of an extensive camping tour of Europe including the Netherlands, France, Germany and Italy. Another group of 50 leaves today on the western states tour under the direction of Jan Oudemool and 10 to 12 counselors. The three tour companies will return at the end of August. The American tour groups travel by station wagon accompanied by trailer and truck making camping stops along the route. The European group will travel by bus, truck and trailer also staying at hotels and camp areas en route. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr)

Surprise Party Honors Retiring B of E President

A surprise party honoring Robert Herb, retiring president of the Saugerties Board of Education, was held recently at the home of Mrs. Ann Karashay.

Members of the Board of Education and their wives had planned a cook-out.

Jack O. Pakanen, member of the Board of Education, spoke for all of the members in expressing appreciation to Herb for his years of public service and his fine leadership. On behalf of all those present, Herb received a mahogany and silver plaque on which was engraved, "Saugerties Central Schools, presented to Robert Herb in recognition of his outstanding service, leadership and devotion. Member of the Board 1955-1965. President of the Board 1961-1965."

In addition to Mrs. Herb and son, those present were Mrs. Jack O. Urges Display Of Old Glory During Holiday

Old Glory will again be flying as the symbol of liberty on the holiday weekend now approaching. As a reminder to every man, woman and child, Joseph Cusack, commander of the Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW, urges the display of the flag and that proper behavior be observed during the parade.

As our nation's emblem passes during the parade, stressed the commander, "all on the sidelines are obliged to use the heart salute or the right hand salute by those in uniform. This should be a habit instilled by parents in their children, by example and teaching each and every time the flag passes."

Other basic rules governing use of the flag, according to the VFW commander, are:

Display the flag from sunrise to sunset only. Take every precaution to prevent the flag from becoming soiled. It should not be allowed to touch the ground or floor, nor to brush against objects. For the children color guards so plentiful in the parades, Commander Cusack reminds them that the color guard is not to speak; nor salute; nor sing during the "National Anthem."

run-off were Dirk Gardner 1st; Gregory Kluck 2nd; Richard Moon 3rd.

Class B winners were Mark Stephenson 1st; Robert Van Voorhis 2nd; and James Bogan 3rd.

Following the picnic supper, Cubmaster Erwin Tate conducted a fire side meeting.

Chief Charles A. Hudson awarded the following awards—Wolf Badge to Richard Moon; Lion Badge, Jerel Gade, Richard Smith and Edwin Tate; a one-year Service pin to Mrs. Shirley Teetsell, den mother.

Peter Hildebrandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hildebrandt, was inducted into Pack 32.

Gregory Kluck and David Sawatz received their graduation certificates. David will go into Troop 32 and Gregory will enter a troop in Colorado where he is to move shortly. In the absence of Scoutmaster Kurt Stade, Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Charles M. Hudson, was present along with Scout Daniel Wynne to induct David Sawatz and Carlton Whitaker into the troop. All Cubs are reminded that they are to march in the Fourth of July parade on July 5.

On July 17 the Women's Fellowship will conduct a bake food sale in the store on Partition Street. Those donating food should deliver to the store prior to 10 a. m. the morning of the sale. A total of $78 was earned at the last sale.

Kathleen Ann Doyle, born May 2 at Kingston Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle of Woodland Acres, received the rites of infant baptism Sunday. She has a sister, Maureen and a brother, James.

Town Board Meeting

Saugerties Town Board scheduled to meet 8 o'clock tonight will be postponed until Friday, 8 p. m. at the town clerk's office.

Supervisor Peter M. Williams postponed the meeting in order that he might attend special ceremonies at American Legion Empire Boys State at Colgate University, Hamilton. Williams is Saugerties Boys State chairman for Lamorne-Hackett Post 72.

Mrs. Eighmey Heads Fire Co. 3 Ladies Auxiliary

Election of officers, revision of the mobilization plan, a report on a bus trip, and plans for the annual rummage sale were on the agenda of the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3, held at the firehouse in Lake Hill.

Elected to serve as officers for the coming year were Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey, president; Mrs. Harrison Lapo, vice president; Mrs. Phillips Eighmey, recording secretary; Mrs. Eugene Howland, treasurer; Mrs. Alfred Ostrander, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Walter Stone and Miss Rose Tagner, executive board members. Miss Molly Tagner will be in charge of publicity.

The recent bus trip to the New York World's Fair was reported as successful by Mrs. Alfred Ostrander, chairman.

Mrs. Walter Stone, chairman of the annual rummage sale, reported plans for the conduct of the sale on Saturday, July 3, at the firehouse in Lake Hill from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. A baked goods sale will be held in conjunction with the rummage event, with Mrs. Hugh Martin in charge.

The mobilization plan, in use for the past two years, was brought up to date at the meeting. Firemen who are no longer active were taken from the plan while new members were added.

The mobilization plan used by the Ladies Auxiliary is a telephone plan which begins with one member of the Auxiliary who resides near the firehouse. When the siren is sounded this member immediately calls two other members of the Auxiliary and then calls two firemen. The second two Auxiliary members then each call two additional Auxiliary members and follow these calls with each calling two more firemen.

The plan utilizes nine members of the Auxiliary and in turn calls out the firemen who are active in the company. It has been in service for some time and has worked fairly well, according to an Auxiliary officer. The plan is used because it is impossible for firemen to hear the siren throughout the three communities served by Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3.

The refreshment committee for the meeting consisted of Mrs. Eugene Howland and Mrs. Bruce Taylor, with Mrs. Alfred Ostrander and Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey on the committee for the July meeting on Tuesday, July 27, at the firehouse.

Mrs. Fred Timpson was a visitor at the meeting.

Bosch Exhibit At Gladstone

A reception will be held at Gladstone Saturday afternoon for the presentation of a two-man exhibition of paintings and ceramics by two talented artists, Lillian Bosch and Gerhard Bosch.

Lillian Bosch was trained at the Art Students League and Sophie Newcomb Art School of Tulane University. She has studied with internationally known painters, including Rene Bouché, Theodore Stamos, William Pachner and Karl Zerbe. She has traveled extensively abroad and has painted in Scandinavia, Morocco, Spain and Mexico. Her paintings have been in national exhibitions in this country and in 1964 were shown at the Redfern Gallery in London. Her present exhibit of paintings, drawings and prints includes a great portion of her most recent work.

Gerry Bosch is a well-known ceramist and painter whose work has been represented in many national exhibitions. As professor of art at Wesleyan College, he taught ceramics and painting. Two Carnegie grants gave him the opportunity to pioneer research in glazes both in Europe and America. He has done professional designing for Lucien Lelong, Lord & Taylor and Gimbels. He has executed a number of large murals and architectural commissions. The exhibit now on view at Gladstone Galleries includes many fascinating examples of the latest work of this master ceramist.

The Bosch exhibits will be on display at the Galleries daily until July 16. During this exhibit period Gladstone Galleries also have on view a selected group show of paintings by Lyn Ott, Julio de Diego, Hilton Leech, Agnes Hart, Frank Rampolla, Richard Oxley, Lorin Wilford, Philip Held, Craig Rubadoux, Bruce Gregory, William Harris and Elden Rowland.

Anxious About Issues

Katzenbach said Wednesday his department has been gathering all information needed to implement the law quickly.

Report Gambi, Trooper Will Wed

CLINTON, N. Y. (AP) — Heiress Gambi Benedict and Thomas F. Gallagher, a New York State Police investigator, were reported ready to be married today at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in this village near Utica.

Miss Benedict, 24, whose runaway marriage in 1960 to ex-chauffeur Andre Porumbeanu ended in an annulment in 1963, had been living recently in the Clinton area with her brother, Douglas.

Gallagher, 32, denied only a few weeks ago that the two were planning marriage.

The romance, however, has been going on for six months, following the brother's introduction of the pair, the Utica Observer-Dispatch reported.

Gallagher, a 12-year veteran of the State Police, is a son of Thomas F. Gallagher Sr. of Rochester, a former major league baseball player who played with Pittsburgh and Cleveland in the early 1920s.

The elder Gallagher currently is a scout for the Cleveland Indians of the American League. A post-wedding reception was arranged at the Alexander Hamilton Inn here, and the couple was to drive to Boston or New York, then fly to Ireland for a three-week honeymoon.

The bride had an oyster-white, silk two-piece suit.

Her late, widowed grandmother, Mrs. Katherine Geddes Benedict of New York, left Gambi and her brother an estimated $50 million from a typewriter fortune. The grandfather, Henry H. Benedict, once headed the Remington Typewriter Co. of Ilion, near here.

Mrs. Benedict raised strong objections to her granddaughter's marriage to Porumbeanu. Gallagher's salary as a senior investigator is $11,500 a year, State Police headquarters in Albany said.

Most Prosperous 12 Months

Scranton Likely To Delay Signing General Fund Bill

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Although Pennsylvania's government began a new fiscal year today, after the most prosperous 12 months in modern history, Gov. William Scranton may wait until next week to sign the 1965-66 general appropriation bill into law.

Legislative Democrats, at a private meeting with the governor Wednesday, asked the chief executive to wait until the year-end balance is completed about July 7 before making promised cuts in the millions of dollars they added to the general appropriation bill.

Will Be Fair

Scranton made no commitment on the requested delay, but he told House Majority Leader Joshua Eilberg and Senate Minority Leader John H. Devlin:

"You can count on me being fair. This is a matter of simply meeting with appropriations in the amounts available so that we don't have to raise taxes next year."

The commonwealth ended the fiscal year with a surplus of at least $102.7 million. It could go higher depending on the amount of unspent appropriations, which will not be determined for several days. The surplus sets a record one-year high.

Scranton met with Eilberg and Devlin shortly before the Senate unanimously approved the $1.131 billion Democratic version of the general appropriation bill for the new fiscal year.

The measure is some $20 million higher than one backed by Scranton and passed earlier by the Senate. To avoid a prolonged fight in a legislative conference committee, Republicans accepted the Democratic bill.

Jackson's Order Banning Parades Is Struck Down

By JAMES E. BONNEY

Federal appeals court has struck down city ordinances banning parades without permits but civil rights demonstrators here still face arrest if they march on the State Capitol.

The Capitol has been the main target of the largely Negro demonstrations here for three weeks. Nearly 1,000 have been arrested.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans issued an injunction Wednesday halting enforcement of three Jackson ordinances dealing with public parades and distribution of handbills.

"We'll abide by the court order," said Chief of Detectives M.B. Pierce, who had led the police force's "instant arrest" squads.

Although the city technically didn't have to obey the appellate court action until it received formal notice, the police radio network told officers to end arrests under the three city ordinances shortly after court acted in New Orleans.

Eighteen more demonstrators were arrested Wednesday, however.

They were jailed under a recently passed state law forbidding demonstrations on the State Capitol, at the governor's mansion and the old Capitol building.

The 18 marched to the Capitol, sat down on the front steps, and demanded to speak with Gov. Paul B. Johnson.

Killed in Collision

NORTH TONAWANDA, N.Y. (AP) — Edward Ellman, 76, of North Tonawanda, was killed Wednesday when the automobile he was driving and another vehicle collided at an intersection here.

Neighbors Take Look a Gotham's Tapping of River

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — New York City's tapping of the dwindling Delaware River comes under scrutiny of neighboring states and the federal government today.

The Delaware River Basin Commission scheduled a meeting in the office of Gov. Richard J. Hughes in an attempt to work out an equitable agreement for sharing of drought-depleted water resources.

The governors of New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware and U.S. Interior Secretary Stewart Udall are members of the commission, which has broad regulatory powers. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York told Hughes he would not attend the meeting and accused Hughes of making public fanfare over what he said had been an agreement to work quietly toward a solution. Rockefeller said he would send a representative to the meeting.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton and Udall also were expected to send representatives. Gov. Charles L. Terry Jr. said he would personally represent Delaware.

Dutchess Indicts Trio

A Dutchess County grand jury has indicted three Poughkeepsie men on charges dealing with narcotics. James L. Rose, 22, of 47 Talmadge Street, and Harold F. Marra, 23, of 127A Garden Street, both Poughkeepsie, were accused of possessing a hypodermic needle. James H. Johnson, 25, of 34 Pershing Avenue, was indicted on two counts charging felonious sale of narcotic drugs and possessing narcotics.

Earth Travel Still Rough on Carpenter

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Astronaut Scott Carpenter, who made thousands of accident-free miles in space, has had his second earthly traffic accident within a year.

Carpenter, 40, escaped with scratches Wednesday when his car and another hit head-on on U.S. 98 west of Panama City at 6:30 a.m.

The highway patrol said Carpenter fell asleep at the wheel and his car veered to the wrong side of the road. Eddy Washington, 51, of Panama City, driver of the other car, was hospitalized with minor injuries.

Last July 16, Carpenter was thrown from a motorbike near Hamilton, Bermuda. He received a compound fracture of the left arm.

Wednesday Carpenter pleaded guilty to a charge of driving on the wrong side of the road and was fined $25.

Tass Man Barred

MANILA (AP) — The foreign office said today it has barred a correspondent for Tass, the Soviet news agency, from the Philippines. It said nationals of Communist countries can enter only under auspices of the United Nations.

Winthrop Different Man Today

Rockefeller Already Talking About Plans For Arkansas Race

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — On the day after the 1964 general election, Winthrop Rockefeller conceded his defeat by Gov. Orval E. Faubus in one breath and announced as a 1966 candidate for governor in the next.

Many doubted that he meant it. Rockefeller had just completed the most serious bid by an Arkansas Republican gubernatorial candidate in a century. He had been beaten in one of the most grueling campaigns in Arkansas history.

Admits 1964 Mistakes
Rockefeller came out of that campaign physically and emotionally exhausted. But he is a different man today. Rockefeller talks enthusiastically about the coming race. He is busy planning for it and he expects to spend much of the next 18 months running.

While he admits that his 1964 campaign team made mistakes, he does not dwell on those mistakes or blame his aides. "You'll find me a lot better equipped candidate this time," the 52-year-old multimillionaire said in an interview. "Then there were a lot of areas of state government on which I was uninformed. But (next time) I'll be able to argue with authority about some state departments that are not being run in the best interest of the people."

Rockefeller appears as determined today to be elected governor as he was determined in 1964, when he left his home state of New York and came to Arkansas, to make a new life for himself.

His brother, Nelson, is a two-term governor of New York, but Winthrop was mentioned as a gubernatorial possibility in Arkansas long before Nelson's success.

Makes Informal Start

Rockefeller informally started his campaign last month with visits to northwest Arkansas counties where he ran strongly in 1964.

The Republican party organization he built to help him last fall is ready to go again. This time it won't be diluted by an effort to elect a presidential candidate. Some of Rockefeller's most vigorous supporters divided their time between working for him and for Barry Goldwater.

Rockefeller is not impressed by Faubus' assertions that he will not seek a seventh term.

"Every move he makes convinces me that he is going to run," Rockefeller said. "I don't see any other Democrat coming forward."

The Pan-American highway eventually will enable a motorist to drive from Alaska to southern Argentina.

GOP Faces Problem in Financing

Washburn Directs Funds Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans may find their national finance chairman and Senate and House campaign committees shaking the same money trees for GOP contributions.

The Republican National Committee was informed at its closing session Tuesday that Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the new finance chairman, had named C. Langorne Washburn as acting director of the party's national finance committee.

Behind the bare announcement that Washburn is taking over this job on a temporary basis lies the story of an unsuccessful effort by Clay and National Chairman Ray C. Bliss to bring all fund-raising activities under Clay's tent.

Promises Cooperation

Bliss said that Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky and Rep. Bob Wilson of California, head of the respective congressional committees, had promised future cooperation on this score. Unmentioned was current resistance to having Clay move in on money-raising campaigns already under way.

Washburn has been serving as executive director of the Republican Congressional Boosters Club.

The House committee has a budget of $900,000 from this source this year and expects to raise it without difficulty. The money will be spent toward trying to elect Republicans to Congress in the 1966 elections.

The Senate committee aimed at $400,000 and raised a sizable chunk of this with a dinner honoring Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Get Compromise

With money in the bank—but not yet enough—the two committees were not about to let Clay take over. The best Bliss and Clay could wangle was a compromise in which Washburn would serve in a dual capacity for Clay's committee and the House committee. This would provide a see-saw to see what kind of coordination could be worked out in soliciting funds.

If Bliss wasn't entirely successful in the financial field, he did manage to avoid a threatened North-South fight over the filling of his old job as chairman of the Republican State Chairmen's Association.

Wirt A. Yeager Jr., Mississippi segregationist, had popped up as a candidate for this post. This brought Craig Truax of Pennsylvania into the fight to prevent any tagging of the party's working organization with the kind of policies that Yeager espouses.

Bliss managed to avoid an open battle. After consultation with the four regional chairmen, he named Gaylord Parkinson of California to the post. Yeager, as head of the Southern chairmen, and Parkinson as head of the Western regional group, sat in on this conference.

Sneak Thief at Work

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A sneak thief prowled the downtown area Tuesday night and left two women barefoot.

Police said Julia Offi, 42, reported a man accosted her on West Onondaga St. and ordered her to give him the sneakers she was wearing. She said the man refused to let her pass until she had complied.

Later, Robin Rushlow, 18, was walking on North Salina St. when a man in an automobile inquired about her sneakers. She said he grabbed one of her sneakers and fled after an unsuccessful attempt to force her into the car. He returned a few minutes later, knocked her to the ground, and fled with the other sneaker, she said.

German Trains Collide

BERLIN (AP) — Two subway trains collided beneath West Berlin Wednesday, and first reports said at least 80 persons were injured, most of them seriously. Police said they had no reports of any deaths.

It was the first major Berlin subway accident since 1912. The collision occurred on a heavily travelled line between the Zoo station in downtown Berlin and Hansa Square.

Geologist Warns Region Is Facing Dire Water Future

Herbert G. Stewart, staff geologist for the U. S. Geological Service, told 75 members of the Hudson Valley Home Builders Association Tuesday night that this region "will be in dire straits" unless heavy and unseasonable rains occur in the near future.

Stewart spoke at the monthly meeting of the Home Builders Association in the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston. He pointed out that an all-time record low as a result of increasing usage and abnormally low rainfall in this area over the past five years.

Stewart said that records kept by the Water Resources Division of the Geological Service in Albany showed a water deficit in the Mid-Hudson region equal to more than a year's normal rainfall.

Steele Has 15th Anniversary of Business Saturday

One of the area's leading business enterprises has announced its 15th anniversary open house for Saturday.

Bob Steele, in an advertisement Wednesday, says a program will take place at his auction and discount house on 9W highway, a mile north of Kingston.

Back from a long illness, the former local boxing referee, said in his ad that there will be free refreshments and plenty of room to park cars.

The ad lists the various items he is featuring at the anniversary sale in his air-conditioned market.

A former wrestler, Bob Steele took an interest in local amateur boxing when it flourished here some years ago, and refereed bouts at the Municipal Auditorium.

Youth Thrown From Bike, Is Critical

A 16-year-old West Hurley youth was reported in critical condition at Kingston Hospital today after being thrown from his bicycle shortly before 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, when his bicycle allegedly collided with a car.

Taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance in critical condition was Robert Reed, 16, of West Hurley who suffered skull fracture, two broken shoulders and broken legs. The accident occurred on Route 28 about a half mile west of Route 375.

State Troopers David Wachtel and Robert J. Mackey investigated. They reported a car operated by Alfred Crisafulli, 65, of Boiceville was being operated on Route 28 when the bicycle ridden by Reed came east and crossed the highway, striking the car.

County Worker Hurt In Rt. 299 Crash

A 64-year-old Ulster County Highway Department employee was injured at about 11:15 a. m. Wednesday, when a county-owned truck he was driving went out of control and overturned on Route 32 about a mile north of Route 299 near New Paltz.

According to Trooper J. F. Czaplicki, Litts was driving the truck on the highway and pulled out to pass an unidentified car. He apparently saw an oncoming vehicle approaching and as he pulled back on the highway the truck skidded and overturned, after hitting a mail box. Litts was ejected.

Ulster Hose Plans Fair Trip July 17

Ulster Hose Company No. 5, Town of Ulster is sponsoring a bus trip to the World's Fair for Saturday, July 17. President Harry Lowe has named Nick Valenzano and Edward Engelhardt a committee of two to take charge of the trip.

Valenzano announced today that one bus has been filled and reservations are being taken for the second bus. Tickets to the fair will be available from Valenzano or Engelhardt at the time of making bus reservations. By securing tickets at the time of making reservations a considerable saving can be made.

Anyone desiring to make the trip may contact either members of the committee and at the same time reserve admission tickets.

Deny 2nd Pact With Ayub Over Troop Withdrawal

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian officials today denied Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan's report that the cease-fire agreement for the Rann of Kutch had been accompanied by a second agreement for a general withdrawal of troops all along the Indian-Pakistani frontier.

Ayub Khan announced in Karachi that he and Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri had agreed in London to order the immediate withdrawal along "the entire India-Pakistan border."

Ayub said the agreement for the general withdrawal is in some respects "more important than the pact on the Rann of Kutch dispute."

"It is not true. We know nothing about such an agreement," said K.P.S. Menon, Indian foreign ministry spokesman.

G. M. Mirchandani, a defense ministry spokesman, said no Indian unit outside Kutch has been ordered to withdraw.

"It is implicit in the Kutch agreement that there is bound to be an easing of the situation," said Mirchandani, "and now that the Kutch is out of the way we are hoping things will ease along the whole border."

Troops in the Kutch, a desolate Pakistan-India border area on the Arabian Sea, were ordered to withdraw with the beginning of the cease-fire at dawn today. The pull-back is scheduled to take seven days. Jha, Shastri's principal private secretary, also denied Ayub's statement but added that "a lessening of tension and perhaps some troop movement would be a logical consequence of the Kutch agreement." Jha said he had been at Shastri's side throughout the Kutch negotiations during the Commonwealth conference in London last week.

Shastri was silent but scheduled a broadcast to the nation tonight. He was expected to defend the pact against charges by extremist Hindu organizations that its terms—specifically those calling for joint patrolling of land India claims—were a surrender to Pakistan.

Plane Hits Fence After Runway Skid

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A Continental Airlines 707 jet skidded off the end of a rain-slick runway early today, rammed through a fence, hurdled an earthen bunker and stopped against a dike at the edge of the Missouri River.

Three persons were injured, two crew members and one passenger, said Ralph Heiminger, district sales manager of the airline.

The aircraft, which carried 59 passengers and 7 crewmen, broke into three sections. The accident occurred just shortly after the plane landed in a heavy thundershower.

The four-engine jet, Flight 12, was en route nonstop from Los Angeles to Kansas City and was to have continued to Chicago.

Beatles songs are banned in Indonesia.

Senators Submit Plans on Ethics, Not Made Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders formally submitted today their recommendations for the appointment of a permanent bipartisan committee on senatorial ethics, but withheld an announcement of its make-up.

The selections were turned over to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the presiding officer, as a sequel to the politically charged Bobby Baker investigation.

Three senators of each party already have been chosen for the new watchdog committee on standards and conduct, created by the Senate a year ago. But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said it was decided to hold up announcing them until the Baker probe was finished.

Report on Baker

That came Wednesday, with a final report from the Rules Committee that said Baker had flagrantly abused his office to "further his own ends." The report recommended careful consideration of the possibility of indicting Baker for violation of conflict of interest laws.

The committee's Republican minority renewed its charges of a Democratic cover-up and whitewash, saying the investigation was incomplete because of the refusal of Democrats to call numerous witnesses.

Involves Fifth

Baker parlayed his outside business holdings while serving as the $19,600-a-year secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority. He resigned his Senate post Oct. 7, 1963, just before the investigation started.

A one-time Senate page boy from Pickens, S.C., Baker was reported to be in California Wednesday and could not be reached for comment. He had invoked the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination in two appearances before the Rules Committee and refused to answer questions.

To try to avoid future conflict of interest cases, the committee in its report Wednesday recommended immediate activation of the watchdog committee. Mansfield said this would be done.

The new committee will be responsible for investigating any improper or illegal conduct by senators and Senate employees and for recommending disciplinary action.

One sharp disagreement within the Rules Committee was over a Republican allegation that contractor Matthew H. McCloskey, former ambassador to Ireland, slipped a political payoff to the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund in connection with the big District of Columbia stadium McCloskey's Philadelphia firm built.

The Democratic majority report called this whole story a figment of the imagination of Don B. Reynolds, a key witness in the investigation. He is a local insurance man with whom Baker was associated. The GOP minority said the stadium situation involving McCloskey was "highly irregular."

Easy Road Seen In Senate for Bill on Housing

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A housing bill containing a modified version of President Johnson's rent supplement plan headed for comparatively easy going in the Senate today after one of the closest votes in the House on any Johnson administration proposal.

The controversial portion of the $5.3-billion measure—the provision for subsidizing rent of low income families—survived a 208-202 vote in the House Wednesday only after the Democrats handling it had drastically modified it from the original administration conception of a program for families above the actual need level.

As the House finally passed it, on a 245-169 roll call vote, the bill closely resembles legislation already approved by the Senate Banking Committee. The Senate version carries a somewhat higher price tag, but estimates of the ultimate cost of a four-year program embracing grants, loans and loan guarantees are imprecise.

Under the House bill, $150 million would be provided over the next four years for rent supplements to families who could qualify for but do not live in the most costly public housing. Regulations on income ceilings for families qualifying for such public housing now vary from city to city.

The help would go only to the needy whose rent exceeds 25 percent of the family income and who live in housing owned by nonprofit or limited dividend organizations. None of the supplements would go to tenants of private landlords.

Historic Step: LBJ

President Johnson praised approval of the bill as an historic step. He said the provision for rent supplements will provide new homes for hundreds of thousands "condemned to slums." And he said it would give incentive to private industry.

In addition to the controversial rent supplement provision, the House bill contains a novel no-down-payment Federal Housing Administration home loan section benefiting peace-time veterans.

USAF Seeks Recruits To Technical Duties

Today, more than ever before in the history of the United States Air Force, the emphasis is on the recruitment of young men and women capable of being assigned to highly specialized technical duties. The education and training of men and women on active duty is considered of extreme importance.

Sergeant Robert Milling, local Air Force representative in discussing the education and training required in the Air Force, states that these duties are accomplished by the skilled men and women of the Air Force's Education and Training Career Field.

There are openings today on America's Aerospace Team for qualified young men and women interested in assisting others to further their education, and for those who want to take part in the training of the world's most skilled Air Force. See Sergeant Milling, Air Force recruiter, today at 597 Broadway for more information.

Veto Leaves U. S. Holding the Bag, Money, That Is

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller vetoed Wednesday night a bill creating a separate corporation to administer the $9.2 million federal anti-poverty program in New York City.

In effect, the veto left the federal government holding a huge bag of money for the city's poor and with no agency to give it to.

However, it was reported that later in the evening City Council President Paul R. Seavane put together a new body—basically the same as in the vetoed measure—to administer the program. Expected to be announced today, the new agency presumably would not embody "supergovernmental" features to which Rockefeller objected.

At a midday news conference Wednesday, Rockefeller said he would approve the city program if assured by Sargent Shriver, head of the U.S. anti-poverty program, that it would not become a "political pork barrel."

In vetoing New York City's plan for a 17-member economic opportunity corporation to administer that city's anti-poverty program, Rockefeller said the measure included a provision that "would supersede all state laws which are inconsistent with its provisions."

Mayor Robert F. Wagner said he was "mystified" by the veto.

In explaining his veto, the governor said the measure would have overridden existing statutes designed to prevent discrimination, to prevent abuses of children and women in employment and a variety of welfare laws pertaining to education, slum control, consumer protection and mental health.

NAACP Mapping Anti-Bias Drive In Housing Field

DENVER (AP)—Plans for a drive against racial discrimination in housing are emerging from the 56th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Jack E. Wood Jr., codirector of the National Committee against Discrimination in Housing, said today he anticipated the drive would be "at least of the magnitude" as the vote rights drive in the South. "Unlike voter discrimination, housing bias takes place all over the country—not just in the South," he said.

Wood is a former housing director for the New York City Commission of Human Rights and the former housing secretary of the NAACP.

He said the NAACP will urge the federal government to withhold urban renewal funds from entire cities allegedly permitting housing discrimination and not just from specific projects.

Seizure Is Fatal To Ponckhockie Man Wednesday

Walton G. Fitzgerald, 69, of 49 Ponckhockie Street, was pronounced dead on arrival at Benedictine Hospital Wednesday night after suffering an apparent heart seizure in an uptown restaurant.

Doctor's Ambulance was summoned to Hopple's Restaurant at 6:40 p. m. Wednesday. Oxygen was administered en route to the hospital.

An attorney by profession, Mr. Fitzgerald practiced in New York City as a corporation lawyer until his retirement in 1958. Born in Kingston, he was a son of the late Patrick C. and Mary Walton Fitzgerald. He was educated in St. Mary's School, Ulster Academy and was a graduate of Niagara University and Fordham Law School.

A devout member of St. Mary's Church, he was a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society and Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus. Mr. Fitzgerald was a member of Twaalfskill Golf Club and Roundout Yacht Club. He served in World War I as a second lieutenant in field artillery.

Jimenez Possible Choice in Santo

WASHINGTON (AP)—The name of Jose Antonio Jimenez, an elderly landowner, was mentioned by Dominican sources here today as a possible choice for provisional president of the Dominican Republic.

Both rebel and civilian-military junta sources here said they have received reports from Santo Domingo indicating that the opposing Dominican factions might agree on the appointment of Jimenez as a means to end the 68-day-old crisis.

State Department sources said they were not aware of any agreement by the opposing sides on Jimenez for the provisional presidency, but did not deny the possibility he was being considered.

The Organization of American States has suggested the Dominican conflict be settled through the establishment of a provisional government to carry the country to general elections under OAS supervision in six to nine months.

Many Dominican leaders have been under consideration but there are no indications yet when a solution might be reached.

Reach Compromise On Cig Warning

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional compromise was reached today on legislation to require warnings against cigarette smoking.

Under it all cigarette packages and cartons must carry this label in a conspicuous position: "Caution: Cigarette Smoking May Be Hazardous to Your Health."

The compromise bars the Federal Trade Commission from requiring any warning in advertising earlier than July 1, 1968. Congress may take another look at the matter before that date.

A Senate-House committee worked out the compromise from differing bills passed by the two branches of Congress. The committee's decisions are subject to ratification by the Senate and House.

The principal differences were as to advertising and as to the position of the warning on cigarette packages.

The Senate bill would have blocked any requirement for a warning in advertising before 1968. The House bill would have blocked it permanently.

The Senate bill would have required that the warning label on packages and cartons of cigarettes be on the front. The House ordered it on the side.

The compromise says only that the warning must be in a conspicuous place.

Asks for Paper Ballot

A proposal that paper ballots be used for a secret vote at the Republican unofficial convention Saturday, July 17, has been advanced by Supervisor Joseph Martorana (R) of Plattkill. Martorana, a candidate for state senator advocates voting by paper ballot instead of the usual voice vote.

Seek Bids for PM

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Service Commission announced today it will receive applications for a postmaster in Port Jervis, N.Y., $7,830.

Applications must be filed with the commission, or postmarked, no later than July 27.

Republicans See Golden Opportunity

GOP Puts Muscle Into Drive To Regain Control in Albany

By CHARLES DUMAS
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — With no major statewide office at stake this year, the New York Republican Party is putting its muscle into a drive to regain majority control of the Legislature.

Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, who has roamed Upstate New York as Gov. Rockefeller's political ambassador of good will for six years, will head the maximum effort.

And More Available
The Republican State Committee will back the drive with a war chest of at least $200,000. Wilson may have more if he needs it.

He also will be able to call on Rockefeller, Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz and other top-ranking Republicans to take the campaign stump where Wilson thinks they might be most effective.

The organization and scope of the legislative campaign, now in the planning stage at the State Committee headquarters here, is unprecedented—because the situation the GOP faces this year is without precedent.

For the first time in the state's history, all seats in the Legislature will be at stake in an election in which the voters will not be balloting also for a major statewide office.

At one time, when assemblymen served for only one-year terms, they ran under similar circumstances. But senators always served two-year terms.

Courts Change Picture

In recent years, with both on a two-year footing, the legislative campaigns have taken a back seat to U.S. senatorial and gubernatorial campaigns. Legislative candidates were spared little time or money by the GOP state organization.

But the federal courts changed the picture by ordering a special legislative election this fall under a new reapportionment plan.

Republicans see this as a golden opportunity to regain the legislative majorities they lost in the Johnson landslide last year, for the first time in three decades.

The Democrats will strive to protect—and increase—their new-found majorities. But, so far, there is no sign that Democrats are mounting an effort comparable to the GOP's.

The big election headlines will be made in New York

No Pear Tree?

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—John H. Taylor looked out his front window about 5:30 Wednesday morning and called police.

Officers confirmed that Taylor saw what he thought he was seeing: six artificial ducks, two artificial cranes, a white bird bath and two "for sale" signs on the lawn.

Taylor said he had no suspects.

City, where Republican John V. Lindsay is making a determined bid to become mayor. Lindsay has indicated he wants little organizational help from the GOP—just money.

Otherwise, the only state office at stake will be a seat on the Court of Appeals. By custom, little campaigning is expected for judicial posts.

Gearing up for the legislative effort, the Republican minority leaders have appointed campaign committees for each house, under the direction of two aggressive, respected lawmakers—Sen. Warren Anderson of Binghamton and Assemblyman Perry B. Duryea of Suffolk County.

Wilson will exercise over-all supervision as chairman of a combined legislative campaign committee, the first time such a unit has been formed.

He will draw on the resources of the GOP State Committee for his staff. Richard J. Roth, a veteran public relations aide to Senate Republicans, was switched to the state committee for that purpose.

Last week, Rockefeller ventured that the GOP "probably" could recapture the Senate and "possibly" the Assembly, too.

Taking up his new task, Wilson begged off any predictions.

"But," he said, "I'm approaching this with the objective of electing Republicans to all 65 seats in the Senate and all 165 in the Assembly. We're not going to regard any seat as a give-away in this campaign."

BABY DOLL BEAUTIES—When Moslem morals ruled out the use of swim suits for this year's Miss Malaysia contest, held in Kuala Lumpur, the local chamber of commerce acted quickly to save the day by ordering baby doll outfits for the contestants. The winner was Patricia Augustus, center, a 19-year-old dental nurse. Alice Woon, left, was second with Clara De Run third. Patricia will represent her country in the Miss Universe contest. Nobody missed the swim suits.

So Write A Letter!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am not a professional businesswoman, but I have to telephone a lot of businessmen as I do volunteer work for several worthy causes. I am fed up to the teeth with the secretary who must know not only your name, but what you want to speak to her precious boss about. I don't blame her for asking who is calling, but I don't think what I want to talk to her boss about is any of her business. Invariably I am told that the boss is "in conference," and please to write him a letter. If I had time to write letters I wouldn't be making telephone calls! What do you think of my telephoning the man at his home after office hours? I can't think of any other way to get to these men who are so well-guarded by their secretaries.

DEAR VOLUNTEER: I don't advise you to telephone a man at his home. It's presumptuous and an invasion of his privacy. In addition to which, it's poor psychology, and your "good cause" might suffer if he resents the intrusion. Don't blame the secretary who says her boss is "in conference." She's only following his instructions. Your best bet is a letter.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell Flo, the good cook, who refuses to give out her recipes, it's what her friends DON'T do that makes their results different from hers. As an example, take this recipe which I have used for 25 years and have given to innumerable guests:

INFALLIBLE RICE (serves four hungry, or six polite people)
1 medium onion, minced
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup long grain, raw, white rice
2 cups chicken broth, (hot).

Saute onions until transparent. Add dice and hot broth. Bring to a boil on top of range. Cover and place in 325 degree oven for 20 minutes. Serve and listen to the compliments.

Simple enough? Well, you ain't heard nuthin' yet. I have had people complain that theirs wasn't like mine. Upon questioning them, I learned why. Here are a few reasons.

- Used instant rice.
- Used another shortening, not butter.
- Left out the onions.
- Failed to cover the rice in the oven.
- Stirred the rice while on the range.
- Used water instead of broth.
- Allowed rice to "boil" for some time before placing in oven.
- Let broth cool before using.
- Baked for 40 minutes.
- Liked onions so - added second onion.

Now I ask you! Why can't some people just follow directions?

"RESIGNED"

DEAR RESIGNED: For some people, directions are something they read carefully to find out what they did wrong.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very good friend who sews very well. It's her hobby, but it has also become her problem. She admires my "taste" in clothes, so every time I get a new dress or suit, she copies it. We go to a lot of the same places, and it looks ridiculous for us to be dressed like "twins"—especially since I am a size 10 and she is a size 18! It's partly my fault because when she asks me if I mind letting her have something of mine for a few days so she can match the material and then copy it, I don't have the nerve to say no. How can I get her to quit copying my clothes without hurting her feelings and losing her friendship? My husband says that "imitation is the sincerest form of flattery," but I can't see it that way. I am sick of being a "twin" to this copycat.

COPIED

DEAR COPIED: Tell your unimaginative friend that since she apparently likes your taste in clothes, you'd be happy to go shopping with her for either clothes or patterns. Then tell her in a gentle and friendly way that you think each of you should maintain your own individuality.

Glens Falls Joins In Ban on Water

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—This city on the upper reaches of the Hudson River and less than 10 miles south of Lake George joined the ranks of communities with strict water regulations Wednesday.

As no relief was sighted in the prolonged drought that has been particularly drastic in the eastern half of the state, the City Water Board banned sprinkling of lawns and gardens except between 6 and 8 p.m., Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, and then only by hand.

Commenting on earlier, more lenient provisions, Water Supt. Garner Tripp said: "They'd stand there holding the hose with one hand and an umbrella with the other."

Feud Splits Israel Party

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Former Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion has split Israel's dominant Mapai party, and his supporters announced they would field a separate list of candidates in the November general election.

The split in the Mapai, Israel's labor party, was the outcome of a bitter feud between the 78-year-old Ben-Gurion and his successor as premier and party head, Levi Eshkol. The feud stemmed from an 11-year-old political scandal known as the Lavon affair.

Dismissal Is Root

The affair concerns the dismissal in 1954 of Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon because of a "security mishap." The facts in the case have never been made public in Israel, but it is generally believed to involve the smashing of an Israeli espionage and sabotage ring in Cairo. Lavon denied responsibility for the mishap, and a Cabinet investigation in 1960 cleared him over Ben-Gurion's objections.

Ben-Gurion, who retired in 1963, started demanding a new inquiry into the case last year. Eshkol objected. When the matter threatened to come up in Parliament on a non-confidence vote last December, Eshkol resigned.

He later agreed to stay on as

All others will register on the first day of the class. The first teenage night will be held July 13 and the park will be open on Thursday night from 8 to 11 p. m. for adults only starting July 16.

premier until the election in November. The Mapai's Central Committee early this month nominated him as its candidate for premier if it wins the election.

Ben-Gurion's supporters called for a party convention to decide on the choice, but the party secretariat last Friday overruled the demand 32-8.

A four-hour meeting of Ben-Gurion supporters decided on the split early Wednesday. But a number of influential Ben-Gurion supporters within the party refused to go along. Among them were Mayor Abba Khousky of Haifa and former army chief of staff Moshe Dayan.

Dayan said he favored a "fighting opposition" within the party rather than an outright split.

LBJ Kin on Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—Antonio J. Taylor, a brother-in-law of President Johnson, is touring four Latin-American countries as a $75-a-day consultant to the Agency for International Development.

An AID spokesman said Tuesday Taylor's assignment is to survey the possibilities for a regional Latin-American program in handicraft and artisan works which could be produced for export earnings.

Taylor, 60, is a long-time operator of an arts and crafts store in Santa Fe, N.M., the spokesman said, and has traveled widely in Latin America in the course of business. On this trip he is visiting Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia and Guatemala. The spokesman said the $75-a-day rate, plus expenses, is standard for such consultants.

Baby Boom Not Running Out Yet

NEW YORK (AP)—For years, educators have been talking about the postwar baby boom and the problems it has meant for the schools.

Forget it! There's a bigger boom coming — lots more babies, lots more problems.

A report released here Wednesday by the National Education Association confirmed biological facts many people have overlooked: Those babies born when Johnny came marching home from World War II have grown up. They're getting married. They're having babies.

In a few short years those babies will be starting school. That means more classrooms, more teachers, more taxes.

The report cited these figures from the U.S. Census Bureau, the nation's official baby-counter: The number of births in the United States jumped from 2.9 million in 1946 to 3.9 million in 1947. Then it tapered off at about 3.7 million through 1950, hit 4 million in 1954, and in 1964 was 4.1 million.

This year the number of births may reach 4.5 million, and by 1970 it could hit 5.2 million. The Census Bureau acknowledges those figures could be smaller, depending on what it calls the nation's "fertility rate."

A limiting factor, according to the NEA report, is that most young women today seem to want three children. Ten years ago they wanted four.

The tidal wave of youngsters which soon will be hammering on the schoolhouse doors compounds the problem of paying for their education.

More and more of them are starting school earlier. They're staying longer.

Despite impressive gains in recent years, the report said, there is still a shortage of classrooms.

The NEA didn't try to project what all this is going to cost.

Blast in Montreal

MONTREAL, Que. (AP)—A bomb exploded behind the City Hall of suburban Westmount City early Wednesday, shattering windows for blocks around.

The blast ripped out chunks of masonry and broke 40 windows in the City Hall, which was closed for renovation.

No one was injured. Ed Harper, Westmount public safety director, said there was no immediate indication who set off the blast.

'Great Race' Has Ingredients of Fine Road Show

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The chase. Mack Sennett invented it. Mike Todd polished it, and movie makers are now employing it to fashion road-show attractions.

Road shows — reserved-seat attractions at advanced prices — have stemmed from historical epics, "Cleopatra," "How the West Was Won"; hit musicals, "West Side Story," "My Fair Lady," "The Sound of Music," and religious pageants, "The 10 Commandments," "Ben-Hur," "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

Supply Dwindling
With the supply of such subjects dwindling, studios have turned to the original story material based on the chase. Mike Todd employed the device with excellent returns for his "Around the World in 80 Days." Stanley Kramer gave it a comic twist with "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World."

This season has brought three road-show films which fill the screen with kinetic activity. The first was "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines," which appears to be safely in the hit category.

Now come "The Great Race" and "The Hallelujah Trail."

"The Great Race" will be compared with "Magnificent Men," since both concern speed duels in the early 1900s. But they are successful in different ways. The airplane epic is basically English in its humor; "The Great Race" is American; outrageously funny.

Director Blake Edwards has employed $11 million of the Warner Bros. treasury and imagination in pursuing laughs for the film. Not all the gags score, and the pace sometimes seems almost too frenetic for human endurance. But interest never lags.

Stereotype Figures

The leading figures are stereotypes—the demonic Professor Fate, attired in villainous black; the white-garbed Great Leslie; the newspaper woman-suffragette who tags along on their fanciful auto race from New York to Paris—they cross the Bering Strait via iceberg.

Fortunately, Edwards was able to secure the services of stars who could breathe life into these characters. Jack Lemmon creates a monumental villain, perhaps the best since Mack Swain menaced Charlie Chaplin. Tony Curtis lends style to the hero, and Natalie Wood is just dandy as the female interest.

"The Hallelujah Trail" attempts to satirize the Western, always a risky business. It succeeds only in part, providing moments of hilarity and occasional bellylaughs. But the story seems drawn out beyond its proper length, like a joke too long in the telling.

The situation is presented in mock-historic style: a wagon train of whisky is dispatched for the aid of Denver miners who face the peril of a parched winter. Converging on the train are opposing forces: a band of thirsty redskins; a hell-bent bunch of anti-liquor ladies; a cavalry force aimed at keeping the peace. They meet in a bloodless dust-storm battle that is the film's most inspired sequence.

The performers are led by Burt Lancaster and Lee Remick.

Tuesday against a Viet Cong jungle stronghold 30 miles north of Saigon.

The operation was recommended by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Saigon, to President Johnson after Westmoreland and Vietnamese military officials agreed it was highly desirable. Informants here said. The President approved the strike, according to this information.

The decision appeared to carry U.S. ground combat strategy in Viet Nam beyond the limits of policy so far announced, although a State Department statement three weeks ago could be interpreted to cover offensive moves of this kind.

On June 8 a State Department spokesman said South Vietnamese leaders had been told "American forces would be available for combat support together with Vietnamese forces when and if necessary."

When this declaration of expansion of U.S. war action stirred international attention the White House issued a statement on June 9. The White House said there had been no change in U.S. policy, because the basic mission of ground troops continued to be to guard key bases like the air base at Da Nang.

The White House statement then rephrased the State Department disclosure of changing policy and imposed limitations to emphasize the defensive nature of what was planned.

"If help is requested by the appropriate Vietnamese commander," the White House said, "Gen. Westmoreland has authority within the assigned mission to employ these troops in support of Vietnamese forces faced with aggressive attack when other effective reserves are not available and when, in his judgment, the general military situation urgently requires it."

At that time, three weeks ago, two points were emphasized by officials here. One was that the U.S. Marines and paratroopers would be going into ground combat with the Vietnamese for defensive purposes. The other was that for a time at least each such operation would be subject to approval by President Johnson.

Fear 35 Die in Crash

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—At least 35 persons — many of them children — were reported killed in a bus crash Tuesday on the Panamerican Highway near Chinchallote. Nine persons were reported missing and several others seriously injured.

Reports reaching Tegucigalpa said 40 of the 54 passengers were members of a children's ballet from Costa Rica on their way to give a performance in the Honduran capital.

This spread is brand new. It tastes exactly like peanut butter and bacon... but there's no bacon in it.

Until now, when you wanted a peanut butter and bacon sandwich you had to fry the bacon until it crisped, drain off the fat, blot up excess drippings with paper towels, crumble the bacon in a mixing bowl, and add a generous amount of Skippy® Peanut Butter. Then you got a large spoon and stirred until it was well mixed and reasonably easy to spread.

Skippy has changed all that. New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has taken the work and the mess and the cleaning-up out of making a peanut butter and bacon sandwich.

New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has all the crunch, crackle and old-fashioned smokehouse flavor of bacon. But instead of bacon, Skippy has created little crisps of vegetable protein with remarkably true bacon flavor. These, mixed with Skippy, make a tasty spread—perfect for snacks, canapes, and sandwiches, even on meatless days.

So, for all you people who like the taste of a bacon and Skippy sandwich, try them together in new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps.

Try some and Skippy will send you 50 cents in cash!

We're so sure you'll like the exciting taste of new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps that we'll send you 50 cents in cash for just buying a jar—any size!

Simply send the label from a jar of Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps, and the coupon provided here to Skippy Smoky Crisps, Box 735, Brooklyn, New York 11202. By return mail, Skippy will send you 50 cents in cash.

Plattekill Sets Recreational Program July 6

Town of Plattekill summer recreational program will get underway Tuesday, July 6, at Clintondale Civic Center, formerly the Clintondale School. This announcement was made by Jack Higgins, director of the Youth Recreation Program.

Detailed plans for the operation of this year's summer program were made at a recent combined meeting of Plattekill Town Board, with Director Higgins and Fred Fowler, chairman of the Town of Plattekill Youth Recreation Advisory Committee.

Unlike last year's program which rotated daily to different locations in the township, this year's program will be held for a continuous full two weeks at each of three locations in the Town. The schedule is as follows:

July 6 through 16 at Clintondale School.

July 19 through 30 at Modena School.

August 2 through 13 at Plattekill School.

The program will operate daily five days a week from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. with a snack and rest period from 11 a. m. to 11:20 a. m.

Director Higgins, who is also coach at Wallkill Central High School, stated that the program will include instructions in basic skills and play in softball, basketball, football, volleyball and golf for the older boys. Also instructions and games of basketball, kickball, whiffle ball, croquet, miniature golf, and others for the younger boys and girls. There will also be available for the latter group slides, swings, monkey bars and seesaws.

A very successful part of last year's program will be repeated this year, an arts and crafts program which will include painting, drawing and the making of various objects and projects.

The summer program which will serve the general age group from 6 through 13 will end with a picnic and inter-community game at Plattekill School on August 13.

Counselors who will assist Director Higgins include Charles Martino, Edward VanName, Donna Freer and Christine Grimmer. The counselors are students attending local schools.

Commenting on the revised schedule of dates and places for this year's program, Town Supervisor Joseph Martorana stated that a major reason for making the change was to avoid conflicts with local churches which had planned summer Bible classes. The Town Board felt also that the new schedule may provide a more fuller and productive program. Commenting further on the various locations, Martorana said that although the aim to rotate the program is to provide equal opportunity to all the youth in the town to participate, those who wish may travel to all the locations and thereby participate in the full six-week program.

Asking for greater participation in this year's program, the Plattekill Summer noted that last year 97 boys and girls participated in the summer program. He noted also that 165 joined the Winter Teen Age Camp program which was a new project this year. Participation by many new boys and girls is anticipated this year and parents and children are being urged to support the program by their participation.

The summer recreational program in Plattekill is part of the overall Youth Recreation Program sponsored by the Town of Plattekill in cooperation with the Division for Youth of the State of New York. The town receives state aid in the form of 50 per cent reimbursement for the disbursements. This will be the second year of the youth program operation.

River Conditions Bad

BOSTON (AP) — Conditions in New England's polluted rivers "are far below even the modest goals set for the region," the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston reports.

During the next decade, the bank said, federal, state and local governments will spend more than $500 million in New England on municipal sewage treatment facilities. An additional $100 million will go for flood control.

DOWNHILL DAREDEVILS—The latest craze to hit San Rafael, Calif., at least as far as the youngsters are concerned, is cardboard box racing. It's easy. All you need is sturdy box and a steep hill and away you go. These five friends think the sliding is great, but they still have to go up hill as well as down.

Friendly Seal Is Now in Norfolk Zoo Pool for Life

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Surfy the seal found out too late it doesn't pay to get too friendly with humans. His penalty is a life term in the Norfolk Zoo.

Surfy, a 50-pound bundle of aquatic energy, first appeared at this beach resort Monday when he commandeered the motorboat of college student Tom Rose.

Rose moored offshore and went to get a cup of coffee. When he returned, Surfy was aboard, barking a few proprietary remarks.

"I barked right back at him," Rose said, "and he went over the side." But when Rose clambered aboard the craft, Surfy followed.

"We sat out there together for a long time — maybe a half hour," Rose said. It wasn't until Rose started the boat's motor that Surfy departed.

For the remainder of the afternoon he cavorted around a pier, eating fish thrown by anglers and scaring a few swimmers who may have mistaken his darting black body for that of a shark.

Getting friendly with ordinary people is one thing but messing with the U.S. Marines is another. Surfy found out Wednesday.

He (or she) was investigating a Marine seashore rifle range when his freedom came to an end. Still Surfy did himself proud in the struggle despite odds of 3-to-1.

Gunnery Sgt. Robert A. Gattis and Lance Cpls. Dallas Lawrence and Larry Wingate tried to lasso Surfy.

"The rope slipped," Gattis said. "You can't catch a seal with a rope."

Finally, the trio herded Surfy to the beach where they tried to wrap him in a poncho. A slippery seal is something akin to a greased pig.

"He wasn't about to be wrapped," Gattis said.

The Marines finally trapped Surfy in a 55-gallon drum. He was given a tranquilizer before being transported to the zoo, where he might decide free fish and a command performance every day is even better than the freedom of the seas.

Savoy Plaza Is Virtually Ghost Hotel These Days

NEW YORK (AP) — Except for seven guests, the rooms with their rich decor were empty. On every floor the thick-carpeted hallways stretched long and silent beside wall mirrors and ivory panels. The magnificent Savoy Plaza was virtually a ghost hotel.

The remaining guests will have to get along without food, drink and room service, but a staff of about 50 will remain until the tenants find other abodes.

Sentiments were sad as staff members and patrons bade farewell Wednesday to that gracious domain — to make way for the march of commerce. The 30-story, 1,000-room Savoy Plaza, famed for its appointments, cultured atmosphere and personal catering to whims of patrons, is coming down to be replaced by a 50-story General Motors office building.

There were protests from long-time tenants and various tradition-minded groups. A landmark committee recently circled the hotel for hours with a mobile loudspeaker sounding objections.

But the tall white brick and marble building standing on Fifth Avenue at the southeast corner of Central Park, was doomed to demolition 38 years after it opened on the site of its predecessor, the old Savoy.

A half dozen businessmen replied they were not in the farming business and had no crops to report.

Not All Farmers

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — The New Mexico State Bureau of Revenue mailed out 45,000 forms called combined report of payments, abbreviated to CROPS.

The forms were for businessmen to list state school taxes, municipal sales taxes, compensating taxes and income withholding tax payments.

A half dozen businessmen replied they were not in the farming business and had no crops to report.

Maria Starting To Throw Her Weight Around

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Little Maria Kim Atzinger is beginning to throw her weight around.

Maria weighs 12 pounds 1 ounce and is considered among the smallest patients to successfully undergo heart surgery.

Maria has weathered some storms in her 18 months. At birth she weighed 3 pounds, 7 ounces. Her first seven weeks were spent in a hospital incubator.

When she was one year old, Maria would grip her mother's hand and try to walk. But, she weighed only 10 pounds.

"She was so small people thought she was only a few months old," said her mother, Mrs. Jerome Atzinger.

Mrs. Atzinger said that she was ill during pregnancy, apparently from German measles. Doctors found the baby suffered from a congenital heart defect, aggravated by severe hypertension.

Maria weighed 11 pounds 8 ounces last week when she underwent heart surgery, normally performed on children 3 to 15 years old.

Maria may have to come back to the hospital some day to have a cataract removed from her left eye.

But she is expected to go home Friday. Her doctors see no reason why she can't take up normal activity, gain some weight and in a few months reach average size for her age.

Special School Planned for Fall By Archdiocese

Bishop John J. Maguire, Vicar General and Auxiliary Bishop to Cardinal Spellman, announced Wednesday that the Archdiocese of New York will open a special school next September for educationally disadvantaged boys. The new school will be at 212 West 83rd Street in mid-Manhattan adjacent to an area of the city now undergoing a thorough renewal and renovation.

The school will offer a solid academic program and place strong emphasis on cultural activities to compensate for deprivations the students may have previously experienced. The idea for this program was conceived as one answer to the need for quality integrated education in a religiously oriented setting. It is hoped that experience with this approach will serve as a guide for those in public and private education who are looking for ways to assist students frustrated by the barriers ghetto-life so often erects.

He was treated and released at a local hospital.

Why We Say--

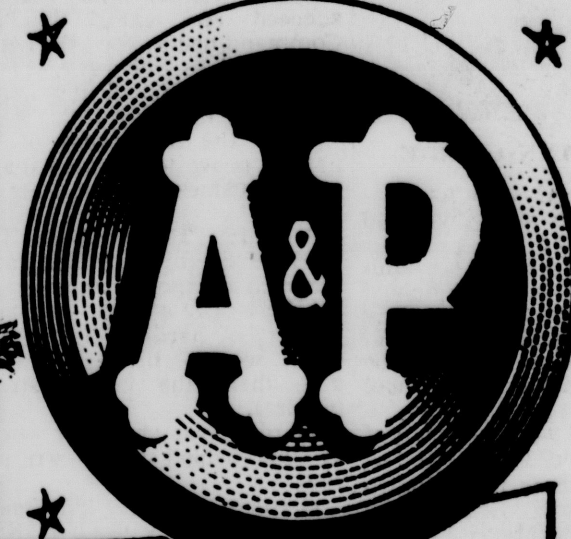

SOPHISTICATED LADY

CONTEMPT: A sophisticated lady is a symbol of "glamor" today. But the word sophistic (for sophisticated) throws some light on the subject. It started as a word of contempt for one who attempts to mislead. The Greek sophists were a school of dilettantes. The other scholars disliked them because they accepted money for teaching... thus the term of contempt was applied.

Theresa Currie Is 'Miss Convention Queen'

Eleven youthful beauties competed for the "Miss Convention Queen" title last night in the Highland Elementary School and judged the winner was Miss Theresa Ann Currie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Currie of Highland, N. Y.

Chosen as attendants were Patricia Ann Abbate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Abbate of Highland, and Yvonne E. Southworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Southworth, also of Highland.

The contest was sponsored by Highland Hose Company No. 1 in conjunction with the upcoming annual Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Convention slated for August 5-7, 1965.

Dick McCarthy, well known radio personality and native of Highland, N. Y., served as master of ceremonies.

Judges were Mrs. Helen Sauter of Poughkeepsie, former Miss New York State winner; Larry Argiro, professor of art, State University College, New Paltz; and Mrs. Dorothy A. Jarel, Society Editor of The Freeman. The point system was used in judging.

Miss Currie attends Dutchess County Community College. She goes into her second year in the fall with a major in business administration.

As "Miss Convention Queen," she will reign during the convention and participate in a gala parade on August 7th. It has been reported that 38 companies from the Ulster County Association will parade along with 10 guest companies.

Attendant Abbate was graduated from Highland High School in 1964 and is now employed as a secretary by IBM.

Attendant Southworth will be a senior at Highland High School in the fall.

Philip DiStasi was chairman of the program.

Other contestants were Judith Ann Busch, Jean Ann Bordi, Deborah J. Cole, Marie DeMarco, Donna Marie Jones, Joan LaSusa, Mary Ann Pape, and Margaret Ann Rutigliano.

Code of Ethics For Career Women Heard at Convention

By JAMES CALOGERO

BOSTON (AP) — Career women competing with men for the executive suite would do well to carry no stick, save lipstick.

And watch your language, lady, there may be gentlemen present.

The advice was from Miss Jo Foxworth in a talk before the national convention of the Advertising Federation of America Tuesday.

She is president of the Advertising Women of New York and a vice president and creative director of the New York firm of Calkins and Holden.

She presented a code of ethics for the woman who wants to succeed and called it "Nine Commandments for Women in Business," as follows:

First: Thou shalt try harder; thou need not be No. 2.

(It is the first order of business to prove to the men that we mean business about our careers.)

Second: Thou shalt know when to zip thy ruby lips and let the men do the talking.

(The longer we hold out on the men, the harder they'll listen when we do break down and give them the inside, straight picture.)

Third: Thou shalt not attempt to hide behind thine own petticoat.

(Petticoats don't hide nearly so much as they used to. Nowadays they're apt to reveal rather more than they conceal.)

Fourth: Thou shalt speak softly and carry no stick, save lipstick.

(All of us have known the female whose voice, under stress, goes up so many decibels that it could set fire to the fur on a rat's back.)

Fifth: Thou shalt serve thy lady boss as graciously as thou servest any man.

(How can we expect to survive as lady bosses ourselves if we give the girls above us a hard way to go—and keep insisting that we'd rather work for men?)

Sixth: When success cometh thou shalt not get too big for thy bustle.

(A man grown too great for his own raiment is hard enough to take, but a woman who is too big for her own bustle is impossible.)

Seventh: Thou shalt watch thy language; there may be gentlemen present.

(A lot of our current smart talk drifted up to a polite society from the dock wallpaper, but when the girls start bandying it about it's particularly unsmart.)

Eighth: Thou shalt not match martinis with the men.

(Some women can drink some men under the table—but a man under the table can still be dangerous.)

Ninth: Thou shalt save thy sex appeal for after 5.

(Sex around the office is like alcohol on the highway.)

Miss Foxworth added: Any woman who tries to fathom the feminine mystique would be making a mistake.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR J. LAIDLAW (Reynolds photo)

Former Educator and Wife Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary; Feted Here

On June 26th, former Supt. of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw and Mrs. Laidlaw celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary with a reception at the Nieuw Dorp, Hurley. The affair was arranged by their children, Mrs. John M. LeFevre (Marian), Wintonka, Ill., Mrs. Alan P. McCorkle (Jean), Stone Ridge, and Donald, Birmingham, Ala.

In the receiving line to greet the more than 100 guests with Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vilas of Upper Montclair, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Laidlaw of Gouverneur, N. Y.

The couple were married in 1915 in Christ Episcopal Church, Morristown, N. Y., founded by the bride's grandfather and other pioneers, and where her parents were married. She is the former Marjorie MacNish of East Orange, N. J., and her husband is a native of Gouverneur, N. Y. The officiating clergyman for their wedding ceremony was the Rev. George Backhurst and the attendants were Roy Vilas of Upper Montclair, N. J., and Jane Laidlaw Dadds, now deceased.

The couple met at St. Lawrence University where Mr. Laidlaw was an instructor and she a student. He taught physics at the University for three years and then in Ogdensburg, going to Whitehall as Supt. of Schools, he remained five years.

Upon the request of the Board of Education, he returned to Ogdensburg as Supt. of Schools for a 16 year period.

In 1939, he assumed the Superintendent at Kingston, retiring in 1955.

They have had four children, one deceased, and seven grandchildren.

Active in community and church affairs, Mr. Laidlaw was president of the Rotary Club, both in Ogdensburg and in Kingston, on the consistory of the Old Dutch Church, a member of the first board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, on the board of the Home for the Aged, and of the Ulster County Board and Health Association, as well as a member of the Mendelssohn Club.

He has served his Alma Mater, St. Lawrence, with 10 years on the Board of Trustees and 12 years on the Board of Athletic Control.

Mrs. Laidlaw took an active interest in musical and civic affairs. She held offices in Sorosis, Musical Society, Woman's Club of YWCA, as well as its Board of Directors, the American Association of University Women, and the Music Appreciation Group.

They now divide their time between Orlando, Fla., and Point Vivian, Thousand Islands, N. Y.

CAR POOL COURTESY

You may be among the thousands of Americans who go to work in a "car pool." It is a practical and economical arrangement, and it means that other members of pooling families may frequently have the family car.

For those who belong to, or about to join, a car pool, there are several basic rules of courtesy to be observed.

1. Be on time. Your tardiness may cause three or four or five others to be penalized for their late arrival at work.

2. Don't carry quantities of articles, and if you must take a package or two, don't pile them where they will obstruct the driver's front or rear view.

3. Don't open or close windows without asking permission of the other passengers.

4. Don't bring an extra passenger without asking the driver if there is room beforehand. Some drivers do not object to three in the front seat, for example, but to others it might be a considerable annoyance.

5. Ask the permission of the other riders before smoking. When you do smoke, make sure that window is opened, if only a little, to allow the smoke to escape.

6. If you are a woman, don't use the rear-view mirror to fix your make-up. Carry a compact with a mirror or a small mirror in your purse.

7. If you must carry an umbrella when it rains, shake it well (and your raincoat, too) before getting in the car to avoid soaking your neighbor.

8. If you are not planning to use the car pool, let the driver know in advance so that he does not go out of his way to pick you up or wait for you unnecessarily before continuing his trip.

Mets and Red Sox

Pee Wee Winners

Mets outlasted the Yanks, 10-9, and Red Sox trounced the Cubs, 11-6, in the St. Mary's Pee Wee baseball league.

Home run hitters included Tom Mahoney, Kevin Coughlin, Mike Kiernan, Gary Brooks, Don Smith, Rocco Secreto and Frank Bailey.

Kranepool Stars
The Mets beat the Reds on the hitting of Ed Kranepool, Roy McMillan and Chuck Hiller, plus the stout relief pitching of Gary Kroll. Kranepool homered, doubled and had a sacrifice fly for three runs-batted-in, while McMillan and Hiller collected three hits each and accounted for the three other Met RBI's.

The Giants rallied for three runs and a 4-4 tie in the top of the eighth at Houston, but the Astros came back in their half of the inning. Bob Aspromonte started it with an infield hit off Frank Linzy, then Wynn tripped him home and scored himself on the steal.

Tony Taylor collected the Phillies' decisive hit, a single in the seventh that brought in Bobby Wine with the tie-breaking run. Losing pitcher Wade Blasingame homered in the top of the seventh, giving the Braves a temporary 2-2 deadlock.

The victory pushed the Phils into the first division for the first time since May 18. They're fourth, just one percentage point under Milwaukee.

Raceway in 2:02.4/5 and is greeted in the winner's circle by owner Walter Dunham and Sam Matthews of Kingston. (Raceway Photo)

Biggest Upset

Minute Car Wash Tops G-G's Rest Nine, 4-3

Minute Car Wash, with only three wins in 11 games, knocked off league leading G-G's Rest, 4 to 3, in extra innings, in the biggest upset of the 1965 City Softball League season.

G-G's rallied with two runs in the bottom of the seventh to tie the score at 3-3 and send the game into extra innings. Details were utterly lacking on these heroics.

Tony Taylor was roughed up for 15 hits but got the nod over George Norton, who yielded 11. Tony Jackson slammed a home run and single and Larry Kitchcraft stroked three singles for Minute Car Wash.

Armstrong's Win
Armstrong's rolled over the 35 Club, 9 to 4, but there was a catch to it. The losers showed up with only eight men and Richie Kelderhouse did a pretty fair job of restraining the Eagles from a runaway score.

W. C. Lindsay was the winner on a 6-hitter, with 7 strikeouts. Extra base power enlivened the contest, as Billy Costello, George Kitchcraft and Eric Blackwell stroked home runs. Hobie Armstrong hit two doubles, with Cosello, John Armstrong, George Kitchcraft and Tony Childs getting one each.

Johnny's Shell Station defeated Cordis Hoes but the score was not reported.

That Man Jazy Running Wild
HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Rampaging Michel Jazy of France, breaking world records at a fantastic clip, may go after his second gold medal in as many days in the World Games today.

Jazy, who broke two European records in winning the 5,000-meter run Wednesday, is tentatively scheduled to go in the 1,500 meters today against a field that includes Jim Grelle and Dyrol Burleson of Oregon.

The 29-year-old Frenchman finished the 5,000 meters in 13:27.6, breaking his own pending European mark and beating Australia's Ron Clarke, the world record holder at the distance, and two American Olympic gold medal winners.

Clarke, who has the pending world mark of 13:25.8, finished third behind Kenya's Keine Kipchoge, U.S. Marine Billy Mills of Oceanside, Calif., the Olympic 10,000-meter champion, was eighth and Bob Schul of West Milton, Ohio, the 5,000-meter Olympic winner, was 10th.

En route, Jazy also broke his own European mark for three miles, hitting that distance in 13:04.8.

Lopez Bedded
KANSAS CITY (AP) — Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox was hospitalized overnight with enteritis, an inflammation of the intestines, and might not be able to rejoin the club today for its trip to Los Angeles.

A spokesman at St. Luke's Hospital said the 56-year-old veteran manager was in satisfactory condition.

Four Straight
OCEANPORT, N.J. (AP) — Jockey Howard Grant won his fifth stakes race of the meeting and his fourth straight when he scored with Carry Forward 2nd in the Long Branch Stakes at Monmouth Park Wednesday.

First Perfecta Boosts Crowd Over Average at Monticello

MONTICELLO — Monticello Raceway's all-new perfecta, tried for the first time in New York State last night, paid $30.40 when Ralph Arone won the perfecta race with Bayard and George Gilmour finished second behind Sonny Arden. This made for an 8-1 combination.

Although the perfecta payoff wasn't gigantic, the evening's figures were. The perfecta definitely had a decided effect on the crowd and total handle.

Average figures for the first six Wednesday nights of the meet had rounded out at crowds of 3,362 and a handle of $243,432. Last night, a crowd of 4,494 was present and wagered $294,938.

On the ninth race, an average of $27,914 had been wagered for the first six Wednesdays. Last night, the handle dipped slightly to $24,901 but an additional $17,242 was wagered on the perfecta itself.

481 Hold Tickets

A total of 481 winning tickets were purchased and the general consensus of opinion in the crowd was that they "liked the perfecta." Leon Greenberg, administrative vice president at the Mighty M, said he was "delighted with the perfecta. The figures are tremendously impressive and the fans seemed to like it. The New York State Harness Racing Commission certainly can't argue with these figures," he concluded.

This evening's twin double paid $532.50. Winning combination was 2-8-5-3. A crowd of 4,494 wagered $294,938.

In the featured fourth race, Greg MacDonald reined Mountain Adios to a two-length victory in 2:05.3. The time eclipsed the old mark of 2:07.1 which was also held by the feature race winner.

A smallish, compact son of Noble Adios-Mountain Goose, Mountain Adios is owned by the M & Q stable of New York City. Last night MacDonald sat comfortably in fourth position until after the half. Approaching the five-eighths, he sent the long-striding black to the front and he was never pressed thereafter, coming the final panel in :31 seconds flat.

Bobby Camper came up fast in the stretch to land the place spot with Quillen Hanover while Clint Hodgins sneaked Skippy's Pride down along the rail for third.

In winning his third straight race, Mountain Adios paid $6.80, 4.20 and 3.10 across the board. A near record daily double materialized at the mighty M tonight when the 8 and 5 combination clicked to the tune of $513.70. The seasonal high payoff came as the result of Gene Pownall's victory with Trusty Lass in the first and Al Manzi's triumph in the second with Houdaille.

Decorate Pilot, Crew of Disabled Pan-Am Airliner

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency has decorated a heroic pilot and his crew for safely landing a jet airliner that lost an engine and part of a wing with 153 persons aboard last Monday.

FAA Administrator N.E. Hala, in a jubilant ceremony Wednesday night, pinned exceptional service medals on the 10 Pan American employees for converting adversity "from an accident to an incident."

The citation read by Hala praised the pilot, Capt. Charles H. Kimes, and his crew for a "masterful feat of airmanship... exhibiting extraordinary skill, faultless coordination and equanimity under pressure."

Their four-engine Boeing 707, carrying 147 passengers, dropped the right-hand outboard engine and 25 feet of wing minutes after takeoff Monday on a flight from San Francisco International Airport to Honolulu.

No one was hurt aboard the plane or in heavily populated ground areas hit by the engine and flaming debris. After 24 tense minutes, Kimes landed the plane 50 miles away at Travis Air Force Base.

The nine-banded armadillo bears its young in litters all of one sex.

Harvard Oarsman Wins at Henley

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (AP) — Eliot House of Harvard defeated the Garda Siochana Boat Club of Ireland by 80 yards today in the Henley Regatta, advancing to the quarter-finals in the men's challenge cup for eight-oared shells.

Earlier, in the Prince Philip Cup for coxed fours, the Thames Rowing Club of England raced to a run-away victory over St. Marks School, Southborough, Mass.

Eliot House's time was 6:38. In the four with cox race, the British rowers — heavier by some 20 pounds a man — crossed the line in 7:23, 50 yards ahead of the hard-pressed American schoolboys.

Peter Virsik and Francis Sulger of New York Athletic Club were knocked out in their heat of the double sculls cup by a speedy German double, Manfred Haake and Joachim Bruckhander from East Berlin, who shot over the course in 7:20.

She won $350 a week temporary alimony and $2,500 partial payment to her attorney in a Miami court Wednesday.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — Silt from Chautauqua Lake killed 1,000,000 muskellunge fry Wednesday at a nearby state hatchery, Ray Norton, hatchery director, said.

He called the loss "a terrible thing, but not catastrophic" and said it involved muskellunge that were being held for "rearing purpose."

Insurance Exec Gets Franchise For Atlanta NFL

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Taking its first step into the eager Southeast, the National Football League awarded a franchise to an Atlanta businessman Wednesday and then defeated the American Football League for playing rights to the city's new 58,000-seat stadium.

Atlanta's team will begin play in 1966.

Rankin M. Smith, 39, executive vice president of Life Insurance Co. of Georgia, was awarded the franchise for an estimated $9 million. Smith did not announce an exact figure.

The Atlanta Stadium Authority awarded Smith's entry playing rights to the stadium on a 10-year lease. Smith offered 10 per cent of the gross admissions while the AFL franchise holder, Cox Broadcasting Corp., offered eight per cent.

While gaining a decisive victory in Atlanta, the NFL also managed to keep its rival from obtaining playing rights to Philadelphia's planned $25 million stadium.

AFL in Philly

However, under a compromise agreement between the NFL and the city, the AFL obtained playing rights to the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field and could field a team there by 1967 when the new stadium will be completed.

Lamar Hunt, a member of the younger league's expansion committee, said he expected the league to delay a decision about moving into Philadelphia for a month or more because of the opposition of one or two owners.

At New Orleans, promoter Dave Dixon said that he had received a query about possible AFL expansion to the Louisiana city in 1966.

Dixon, president of New Orleans Pro Football Club, Inc., announced he would meet today with AFL officials to discuss the possibility of placing a team in New Orleans.

Despite the announcement of AFL interest, Dixon said, "I think New Orleans should be the odds-on choice for the 16th NFL franchise." He said he assumed the AFL's tentative offer resulted from the NFL having squeezed the newer league out of Atlanta.

Lema Sees Money Coming Before British Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Champagne Tony Lema, the big name in the $70,000 Western Open golf tournament starting today, can take the British Open or leave it alone.

"That's news, because Lema is defending champion in the British Open next week at Southport, England."

The Western Open at Tam O'Shanter Country Club ends Saturday.

"I'm not too crazy about playing golf in England," said Lema without elaboration, except to hint he is most interested in playing any tournament for what it's worth.

"After you win a certain amount of money in golf," continued Lema—second in the PGA money-winning list, "it seems to become a matter of how many major tournaments have you won."

"I've only won the British Open as a big one and I'm in this business to make money."

Explains Reason

"They (Western Golf Association) weren't getting too many of the top money-winners and I'm one—even if I'm not a big draw. I also don't think I can afford to pass up a tournament like this one to practice all week for another."

Skipping the Western Open are such top attractions as newly-crowned U.S. Open champion Gary Player; leading PGA money-winner Jack Nicklaus; and slumping star Arnie Palmer—all making the British Open their next stop.

Lema won last year's British Open at St. Andrews after only 36 holes of practice, flying to England, as he will do again Sunday, after the Western Open finish.

Lema last year tied for sixth in the Western, which was won by Chi Chi Rodriguez with a record-breaking 268, 16 under par.

Rodriguez and Lema head a field of 130 pros, including eight of the top 15 PGA money winners. The field will be cut to the low 75 scorers and ties after 36 holes and to the low 60s and ties after 54 holes.

Customer—Yes, we did. We had a good half hour with him. There were only about a half dozen people and we didn't have to wait over five minutes. It was one of the highlights of the trip.

Barber—Well, what'd he say?
Customer—As I knelt at his feet to receive his blessing, he looked at me and said, 'For Pete's sake, man! Where'd you get that miserable haircut?'

Boy Is Critical After 9W Crash, Action Pending

Rynhold Tiedtke, 11, of Route 1, Box 397, Saugerties, was severely injured Wednesday afternoon when a car operated by his mother, Mrs. Margaret Tiedtke, 35, and a New York Telephone Company truck were in collision on Route 9W near the intersection with the Leggs Mills Road.

Young Tiedtke was reported in "critical" condition today at Kingston Hospital where he was taken by Doctor's ambulance.

Also injured in the accident was Mrs. Margaret Tiedtke, who suffered chest, back injuries and shock, and her son Robert, 7, who received head injuries. Both were taken to Kingston Hospital by ambulance and Mrs. Tiedtke was reported in "satisfactory" condition today and Robert was reported in "fair" condition.

State Troopers David Wachtel and T. H. Lounsbury of the Lake Katrine station reported the operator of the telephone company truck was Orville Klomps, 46, of 94 Plainfield Road, Town of Ulster. He was not injured. The telephone truck was being operated north on Route 9W about 300 feet south of the Leggs Mills Road. The Tiedtke car was proceeding south on Route 9W, when it left the highway and ran to the west, then veered back on to the highway and struck the Klomps truck head-on and overturned. The accident occurred about 1:20 p. m.

Criminal action is pending. State Police reported.

The vehicle was traveling east on the highway when it went off the south shoulder, traveled about 220 feet and crashed into a tree.

The driver was taken to Highland Hospital, Beacon, in critical condition. She suffered a crushed chest, broken left wrist and other injuries, according to troopers who investigated with Dr. Chester H. Goldin, Wappingers Falls, county medical examiner.

Port Ewen Woman Is Stricken at Home

Mrs. Agnes Reilly, about 75, was removed from her home on Canal Street, Port Ewen, to Benedictine Hospital Wednesday shortly before 2:30 p. m. after she was discovered lying on the living room floor of her home where she had apparently suffered a stroke. Her condition today was reported as "fair."

Edward Smith of Canal Street, Port Ewen, notified the sheriff's department that a boy had been passing the house when he heard moaning and someone calling out that they could not move.

Deputy Sheriff Bernard Ellsworth went to the Reilly home and found all entrances locked. He broke open the rear door and found Mrs. Reilly on the living room floor. Doctor's ambulance was summoned and she was taken to Benedictine Hospital. She resided alone. Relatives were notified.

Cabbies to Vote July 21 on Union

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has set July 21 for a garage-by-garage vote by employees of 33 fleet taxicab firms to determine if they want union representation.

The NLRB acted Wednesday as a strike of cab drivers against 83 of the fleet-owned companies continued.

The strike is in its fourth day. More than 90 per cent of the 6,816 fleet-owned cabs were idle Wednesday, while about 4,200 of the 4,956 cabs driven by independent drivers were on the streets.

Police reported several more incidents of violence, including a burned cab and windshield smashing.

The NLRB ruling for a garage-by-garage ballot had been sought by the fleet owners. The taxi drivers organizing committee has demanded a citywide vote. Such a vote conducted by the city was thrown out when the owners obtained an injunction barring tabulation of the vote.

The estimated price, which includes most of the 73 acres in the project area, is listed in a plan being completed by Patrick Kane, of City Planning Association-East Inc., for the city.

body of the Hurley Reformed Church has agreed to rent space and all necessary facilities to the school district for two kindergarten classes at the rate of $2200 a month, including heat and utilities.

On motion of Withall, seconded by Trustee Harold E. Keator Jr., the board authorized Dr. Hoover to enter into a rental contract with the Hurley Reformed Church for the 1965-66 school year.

He will be paid a differential of $500 above the regular teacher's salary schedule.

A pilot program in elementary guidance to be instituted in September, 1965, in the Meagher School, was approved by the board. It was voted to apply $7,000 granted by the State Education Department toward the financing of the program. It was reported that Raymond Schatzel, general mechanic, is returning from a leave of absence.

Correction

An error appeared unintentionally in a story in Wednesday's Freeman entitled "Area Rotarians Donate $5,000 to Benedictine Fund." The Phoenicia Rotary Club has undertaken to raise an additional $20,000 from the residents of the Town of Shandaken toward the Benedictine Hospital Building Fund. The story stated mistakenly that the $2,000 was planned to raise only $2,000 from the Town of Shandaken.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market, having regained in two days 25 per cent of its six-week loss, paused for a breather early this afternoon.

Prices were slightly on the downside and trading was moderate.

This was in sharp contrast to the mammoth gains and very heavy trading of the two previous days.

However, the development didn't catch Wall Street by surprise. Brokers said the market could hardly be expected to maintain the momentum of Tuesday and Wednesday.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional with a few losses running to a point or so. American Telephone eased a minor fraction despite its report of record earnings for the 12 months ended May 31.

Dracett traded at 33, off ½, on a block of 25,000 shares.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was off 7.8 to 317.7 with industrials off 1.1, rails up .2 and utilities off .2.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon had lost 3.52 to 864.51.

Motors, farm implements, aircraft, tools, nonferrous metals, chemicals, rails and airlines declined. Rubbers, building materials and drugs advanced.

Albany Man Faces Jury Action on 'Cracker Balls'

An Albany man has been arrested and held for grand jury action on a charge of possession of the dangerous candy-like "cracker balls," a candy-like fireworks designed to explode when thrown against a hard surface. They also will explode if bitten. A 4-year-old New York city child died last week as a result of biting a "cracker ball."

Police and health officials have issued a warning against display or use of the fireworks piece which resembles a candy ball.

Harold S. Ross, 47, proprietor of a Colonial lunch room, has been arrested by State Troopers for possession of 230 of the cracker balls. He said he purchased them from a man driving a local wagon.

Local police and health officials have issued a warning against sale or display of the dangerous fireworks.

Explains Double Vote Because He Liked LBJ, Stand

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police said Edward L. Williams, 40, accused of casting two ballots in the last presidential election, told arresting officers: "I voted twice for President Johnson because I liked him and his policies."

Officers said that Williams, a restaurant maintenance man, told them Wednesday when he was arrested that he thought it would be all right to vote twice because he had skipped some previous elections in which he didn't like any candidate.

Williams used an alias the second time, police said.

It's July, But Weatherman Reports Chilly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A massive cold air system which brought record low temperatures to the Midwest and New England loosed violent weather today along its advancing edge from the plains to South Carolina.

Tornadoes speared sections of Colorado, Oklahoma and southwest Missouri. Funnel clouds whirled over South Dakota and eastern Montana. Little damage was reported from these.

Heaviest rain on the front was reported at Myrtle Beach, S.C. — 1.68 inches.

Flint, Mich., with a low temperature of 40 degrees, and Milwaukee, Wis., with 41, set all-time July cold marks.

The cold front broke a week-long string of 90-plus days in the northern gulf states area and parts of the Southeast.

The job of defending our agriculture against foreign plant diseases and insects grows more complex every year. An estimated 178 million people now enter the United States annually and baggage provides a major way for plant pests to invade the country. Department of Agriculture experts based at 70 seaports, airports and border crossings carefully check for pests, which take a toll of about $7 billion a year in damage. The gypsy moth, stem rust fungus, Hessian fly, boll weevil, European corn borer and alfalfa weevil all crossed our borders to play havoc with agriculture.

Discrimination Against Women Workers Barred

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller signed a bill today making it unlawful for either employers or unions to discriminate against women in this state.

The measure, effective Sept. 1, adds the category "sex" to an existing law that forbids discrimination because of age, race, creed color or national origin.

It was an outgrowth of the 1964 Federal Civil Rights Act, which provides that an employer may NOT refuse to hire a woman — or a union deny her membership because of her sex.

Rockefeller said state legislation was needed because the federal act assigned the task of enforcement to the states, provided they had appropriate machinery for doing so. The New York State Commission for Human Rights will take on the job.

The bill was among two dozen processed by the governor as he continued work on the pile of legislation left by the 1965 session.

Among various actions:

— Rockefeller signed a measure that will permit 16 and 17-year-olds to patronize pool halls without having to be accompanied by a parent or guardian. It takes effect Sept. 1. Current law sets the minimum age at 18.

— He vetoed a bill that would have required courts to postpone criminal trials when one of the lawyers involved was a state legislator and the Legislature was in session.

— The governor approved a measure that would permit an injured employee to collect workmen's compensation benefits for the first week after he is disabled if he injury keeps him off the job for at least two weeks. Under the old law, a worker could not collect for the first week unless his disability sidelined him for at least 28 days.

— He vetoed legislation that would have provided special workmen's compensation benefits to cover the cost of a seeing-eye dog for any workers blinded on the job. The reason, he said, was that the bill failed to exclude workers injured before the new law would have taken effect, July 1.

— He also rejected a measure that would have limited the period during which parents or guardians are required to help pay for care of patients in state schools for the mentally retarded. Rockefeller said the money was needed to help finance construction of additional facilities for the retarded.

Items Taken From Car

A car was reportedly rifled while parked in the rear of Frank's Restaurant, 590 Broadway early this morning. Andre Poetz, Stone Ridge, told police that a brown billfold, a white dress shirt and a pair of pants were stolen from his car while he was patronizing the restaurant.

Lake Inducted Kingston Rotary Club President

Dale B. Lake, president of Ulster County Community College, was inducted into the office of president of Kingston Rotary Club at an induction dinner Wednesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Edwin B. Bolz, outgoing president, who conducted the ceremonies, referred to the Rotary International convention in Toronto, Canada, which was attended by 14,661 Rotarians and guests from 72 countries to discuss and exchange ideas on Rotary. "Service Above Self" was paramount in the minds of all no matter what the background, he said.

"We found the same spirit prevailing during our participation in the charter night activities of the two new clubs founded in our area at Poughkeepsie South and Highland, New Paltz during the past year. At home it was my desire to strengthen our club service, to inject our club into a more dynamic role in community affairs and to provide a project that would help our club become interested in international understanding.

"With the help of officers, directors and members we did make inroads in all three areas mentioned. But there is more to be done."

"Under the very able leadership of Dale Lake, I can foresee an explosion of activity that will enhance the Kingston Rotary Club."

William E. Rylance, past president, welcomed the guests which included Rotary Ann.

President Lake upon assuming office used the Frank Thompson gavel.

Tea Taster Talks

John Joseph, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Kenneth Rapiett, tea taster from The Tea Center in New York City.

Well versed on the subject of tea, Rapiett's talk included historical and legendary data on tea. He also stressed the importance that tea plays in the economic structure of the world.

In his demonstration, he showed the difference between black, green and oolong tea and traced the progress of tea from the seed through the planting, growing, plucking and processing of the leaves.

Boys Staters Name Governor In Voting Today

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP)—Voting machines replaced posters, campaign slogans and political oratory today as 1,030 residents of Boys State went to the polls to elect their state officials.

Campaigning ended Wednesday night after a mass rally at which the two gubernatorial nominees — Federalist Danny Williams, 17, of Buffalo, and Nationalist Cleo Wilson Jr., 16, of Amityville — gave their final political sales pitches.

Both Williams and Wilson are Negroes. The American Legion-sponsored event has had previous Negro governors.

Also on the Federalist ticket were Harold B. Sanderson Jr., 16, Seneca Falls, lieutenant governor, and Jabez L. Van Cleef, 16, Westford, attorney general.

Other Nationalist nominees included Michael J. Critelli, 16, Rochester, lieutenant governor, and Duncan W. Wood, 17, Hamburg, attorney general.

The 28th annual Boys State ends Friday.
